What is the Special Meeting?

On May 25, 2018, American Capital Senior Floating, Ltd. (the “Company”) filed a definitive proxy statement (the “Proxy Statement”) with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) announcing a Special Meeting of Stockholders (the “Special Meeting”) to be held on June 28, 2018 at 11:00 am., New York Time, at the offices of Proskauer Rose LLP, Eleven Times Square, New York, New York 10036. You are urged to read the Proxy Statement and the other relevant materials because they contain important information about the Company and the Plan of Complete Liquidation and Dissolution of the Company (the “Plan”).

What is the purpose of the Special Meeting?

At the Special Meeting, stockholders of the Company will vote upon a proposal to approve the Plan, including the sale of all or substantially all of the Company’s assets and the dissolution of the Company pursuant to the Plan. A copy of the Plan is attached as Exhibit A to the Proxy Statement and is available on the SEC website at <http://www.sec.gov>. The information contained herein is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Plan and the Proxy Statement. You should read the Plan and the Proxy Statement. Upon the approval of the Plan, the Company will cease to carry on business except to the extent necessary for the liquidation of the Company’s assets and the winding up of the Company’s business and affairs. No other matters may be considered at the Special Meeting other than the matters set forth below.

What will I be voting on at the Special Meeting?

At the Special Meeting, you will be asked to consider and vote upon a proposal to approve the Plan, including the sale of all or substantially all of the Company’s assets and the dissolution of the Company pursuant to the Plan.

If the Plan is approved, the Company and the Adviser will undertake the following, among other things:

- promptly winding up the Company’s affairs, collecting the Company’s assets and paying or providing for the Company’s liabilities (including contingent liabilities);
- selling all or substantially all of the Company’s assets, including any and all property of the Company at public or private sale;
- making one or more liquidating distributions to the Company’s stockholders after the Company sells all or substantially all of its assets, pays all of its known liabilities and provides for contingent liabilities; and
- dissolving the Company, all in accordance with the Plan.

Why was the Plan adopted?

As a result of discussions over a series of meetings, at a meeting of the Company’s board of directors (the “Board”) held on May 4, 2018, the Board unanimously approved the Plan, including the sale of all or substantially all of the Company’s assets and the dissolution of the Company pursuant to the Plan. In reaching a decision to approve the Plan, the Board considered various strategic alternatives, including:

- continuing the Company as a stand-alone entity, including with increased leverage;
- engaging in a merger or acquisition transaction with affiliated or third party companies; and
- liquidating and dissolving the Company.

After considering the various strategic alternatives, the Board determined that the estimated aggregate distribution to be received by the Company’s stockholders in connection with the sale of all or substantially all of the Company’s assets and a dissolution of the Company, pursuant to the Plan, would likely maximize stockholder value within a reasonable period of time and with greater certainty than if the Company were to pursue other strategic alternatives.

Are there any interests in the Plan that differ from my own?

Yes. The Company is managed by Ivy Hill Asset Management L.P. (the “Adviser”) pursuant to the terms of a management agreement. Pursuant to the management agreement, the Adviser receives certain fees as compensation for management services provided to the Company. If the Plan is approved, such fees will continue to be paid until the Company’s liquidation and dissolution is completed, as calculated pursuant to the management agreement. The Adviser will not receive any additional fees in connection with the Company’s liquidation and dissolution.

How much should I expect to receive in the liquidation?

Based on current information, the Company currently estimates that, following the sale of the Company’s portfolio assets and after deducting for estimated expenses in connection with the liquidation and dissolution of the Company and the payment of all of the Company’s estimated other liabilities, the aggregate amount of distributions to be received by each stockholder (including cumulative dividends declared and payable after March 31, 2018) will be between 97% to 99% of the Company’s net asset value (“NAV”) per share as of March 31, 2018 of $13.11. However, there can be no assurance that the sale price of a particular portfolio investment will be at or substantially similar to that portfolio investment's estimated fair value or that the Company will be successful in selling all of the Company's portfolio investments. The actual distributions received by each stockholder could be more or less than the estimated range and the timing of the asset sales and distributions is uncertain. All expenses incurred by the Company, its officers and/or the employees of the Adviser and its affiliates in carrying out the Plan, including the sale of all or substantially all of the Company's assets and the liquidation and dissolution of the Company, shall be borne by the Company.

When will I receive my liquidating distributions?

The Company expects to make one or more liquidating distributions to the Company's stockholders after the Company sells all or substantially all of its assets, pays all of its known liabilities and provides for contingent liabilities.

Will I continue to receive monthly dividends until the liquidation is complete?

The Board has authorized and the Company has declared monthly cash dividends of $0.097 per share for each of May, June and July 2018. If the Plan is approved, the Board will review the timing and amount of any future monthly dividends after July 2018, taking into consideration the Company's operating results and capital needs. There is no assurance that the Company will continue paying a monthly dividend after the July 2018 dividend at the existing rate, if at all.

What are the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the liquidation?

Liquidating distributions to you under the Plan generally are not taxable to you for U.S. federal income tax purposes until total distributions to you exceed the tax basis of your shares of common stock. Should your total liquidating distributions exceed the tax basis of your shares of common stock, then, for U.S. federal income tax purposes such excess amounts generally will be capital gains, assuming you hold your shares as a capital asset. Such capital gains may be long-term capital gains if you held your shares for more than one year; otherwise, such capital gains will be short-term capital gains. A summary of these tax consequences is available in the Proxy Statement. An Individual Retirement Account (an "IRA") generally is not taxable on investment income and gain from the Company (assuming that the IRA did not incur debt to finance its investment in the Company). Accordingly, the receipt by an IRA of a liquidating distribution should not be a taxable event for the IRA. However, if the liquidating distribution is distributed to the IRA beneficiary (as opposed to the IRA retaining the liquidating distribution), then the liquidating distribution may be taxable to the IRA beneficiary. If the liquidating distribution is distributed to an IRA beneficiary, the IRA beneficiary may be able to roll the liquidating distribution into another IRA within sixty (60) days of the date of the distribution in order to avoid having to include the liquidating distribution in his or her taxable income for the year. You should consult your own tax advisor for a full understanding of the particular tax consequences of the liquidation to you as well as the tax consequences of any other dividends or distributions by the Company.

Whom should I call with other questions?

If you have additional questions about the Special Meeting or would like a copy of the Proxy Statement, please contact the Company's Investor Relations Department at American Capital Senior Floating, Ltd., 245 Park Avenue, 42nd Floor, New York, New York 10167 or 888-818-5298; or please contact Georgeson LLC, the firm assisting us in the solicitation of proxies, toll-free at 866-216-0462.

How does the Board recommend that I vote at the Special Meeting?

The Board unanimously recommends voting FOR Proposal 1, the approval of the Plan, including the sale of all or substantially all of the Company's assets and the dissolution of the Company pursuant to the Plan.
