PRELIMINARY—SUBJECT TO COMPLETION—DATED MARCH 13, 2019

PROXY STATEMENT OF FNB BANCORP

PROSPECTUS OF GLACIER BANCORP, INC.

MERGER PROPOSED – YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

Dear FNB Bancorp Shareholders:

As you may know, the boards of directors of FNB Bancorp (“FNB”) and Glacier Bancorp, Inc., Kalispell, Montana (“Glacier”) have each unanimously approved a merger of FNB with and into Glacier, subject to approval by FNB shareholders and appropriate bank regulators. Immediately following the merger, FNB’s subsidiary The First National Bank of Layton (the “Bank”) will be merged into Glacier’s subsidiary Glacier Bank (“Glacier Bank”), subject to approval of appropriate bank regulators.

Under the terms of the Plan and Agreement of Merger, dated January 16, 2019 (the “merger agreement”), each outstanding share of FNB common stock will be exchanged for 0.6474 shares of Glacier common stock, subject to certain adjustments.

The amount of Glacier common stock exchanged for each share of FNB common stock is subject to adjustment in the event that the average closing price for Glacier common stock over a 20-day period prior to closing is more than $46.63 or less than $32.44, or less than $34.47, if such stock price has also declined by ten percentage points more than the KBW Regional Bank Index. In that event either Glacier or FNB, respectively, may provide notice to terminate the merger agreement, provided that the merger agreement will not be terminated if either FNB or Glacier, as the case may be, elects to adjust the number of shares to be issued in the merger as described in this proxy statement/prospectus. Glacier may also elect to pay additional cash consideration in lieu of increasing the number of shares to be issued in the merger.

The merger agreement establishes a minimum requirement for FNB’s capital ($39,285,000) prior to the closing of the merger. If FNB’s closing capital, after being adjusted in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement to take into account any transaction expenses in excess of amounts permitted under the merger agreement, is in excess of the minimum required, FNB may pay a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount of such excess. If FNB’s closing capital is less than the minimum required, the total Glacier stock consideration will be reduced by a number of shares equal in value to the difference between the required amount of FNB closing capital and the amount of the actual FNB closing capital, as adjusted.

Assuming for purposes of illustration only that the average closing price for Glacier common stock is $41.06, which was the closing price of Glacier common stock on March 11, 2019, as quoted on the NASDAQ Global Select Market, and that there is no reduction in the exchange ratio due to the FNB closing capital being less than the required amount, for each of your shares of FNB common stock, you will receive 0.6474 Glacier shares with an estimated current value of $26.58.

Assuming the exchange of all outstanding FNB common stock for Glacier common stock in accordance with the merger agreement, FNB shareholders will, in the aggregate, own approximately 2.36% of Glacier’s outstanding common stock following the merger.

Table of Contents

FNB will hold a special shareholders' meeting to vote on the merger agreement on April 18, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. Mountain Time, at the Davis Conference Center located at 1651 North 700 West, Layton, Utah 84041. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please take the time to vote by completing and mailing the enclosed form of proxy.

The board of directors of FNB has unanimously recommended that you vote FOR approval of the merger agreement and the other proposals described in this proxy statement/prospectus.

/s/ Kevin S. Garn

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS
TO BE HELD APRIL 18, 2019

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF FNB BANCORP:

A special meeting of shareholders of FNB Bancorp (“FNB”) will be held on April 18, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. Mountain Time, at the Davis Conference Center located at 1651 North 700 West, Layton, Utah 84041. The special meeting is for the following purposes:

1. To consider and vote on a proposal to approve the Plan and Agreement of Merger, dated as of January 16, 2019, among Glacier Bancorp, Inc. (“Glacier”), Glacier Bank, FNB and The First National Bank of Layton (the “Bank”), under the terms of which FNB will merge with and into Glacier and the Bank will merge with and into Glacier Bank, as more fully described in the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus. The merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to the proxy statement/prospectus.
2. To approve one or more adjournments of the FNB special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies in favor of approval of the merger agreement.

Holders of record of FNB common stock at the close of business on March 6, 2019, the record date for the special meeting, are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting or any adjournments or postponements of it. The affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FNB’s outstanding common stock is required for approval of the merger agreement. To that end, FNB’s directors and executive officers have signed agreements to vote their shares in favor of the merger agreement. Such persons are entitled to vote 1,357,605 shares representing approximately 42.95% of all outstanding shares of FNB common stock. As of March 6, 2019, there were 3,160,969 shares of FNB common stock outstanding.

FNB shareholders have the right to dissent from the merger and obtain payment of the fair value of their shares of FNB common stock under the Utah Revised Business Corporations Act (“URBCA”), Sections 1301 through 1331. A copy of the provisions regarding dissenters’ rights is attached as Appendix B to the accompanying proxy statement/prospectus. For details of your dissenters’ rights and how to exercise them, please see the discussion under “The Merger – Dissenters’ Rights.”

Your vote is important. Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please complete, sign, date and promptly return the accompanying proxy using the enclosed envelope. If for any reason you should desire to revoke your proxy, you may do so at any time before it is voted at the meeting. If you do not vote your shares, it will have the same effect as voting against the merger.

The board of directors of FNB has determined that the merger agreement is fair to, advisable, and in the best interests of FNB and its shareholders and unanimously recommends that you vote FOR approval of the merger agreement. With regard to its recommendation that shareholders vote FOR approval of the merger agreement, the board of directors of FNB considered a number of factors, as discussed in “Background of and Reasons for the Merger” beginning on page 18. Such factors also constituted the reasons that the board of directors determined to approve the merger agreement and to recommend that FNB shareholders vote in favor of the merger agreement.

You will receive instructions on how to exchange your shares of FNB common stock for the merger consideration promptly after the closing of the merger.

By Order of the Board of Directors,

/s/ Shelly Holt

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Why am I receiving these materials?

We are sending you these materials to solicit your proxy to vote in favor of the merger and to help you decide how to vote your shares of FNB Bancorp (“FNB”) common stock with respect to its proposed merger with Glacier Bancorp, Inc. (“Glacier”). The merger cannot be completed unless FNB receives the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of FNB’s common stock. FNB is holding a special meeting of shareholders to vote on proposals relating to the merger. Information about the special meeting is contained in this document. See “FNB Special Shareholders Meeting.”

This document is both a proxy statement of FNB and a prospectus of Glacier. It is a proxy statement because the officers and board of directors of FNB (the “FNB Board”) are soliciting proxies from FNB shareholders in connection with voting on the merger. It is a prospectus because Glacier will issue shares of its common stock in exchange for shares of FNB common stock as consideration to be paid in the merger.

What will FNB shareholders receive in the merger?

Under the terms of the merger agreement, each share of FNB common stock will be exchanged for 0.6474 shares of Glacier common stock, subject to adjustment as described below.

Assuming for purposes of illustration only that the average closing price for Glacier common stock is $41.06 (which was the closing price for Glacier common stock on March 11, 2019), and that there is no reduction in the exchange ratio due to the FNB Closing Capital (discussed below) being less than the required amount, each share of FNB common stock would be exchanged for Glacier common stock with a total value equal to $26.58.

If the FNB Closing Capital (as defined in the merger agreement) exceeds $39,285,000, subject to certain adjustments, FNB may, upon written notice to Glacier and effective immediately prior to the closing of the merger, declare and pay a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount of such excess.

If the FNB Closing Capital is less than $39,285,000, the total number of Glacier shares issued in the merger will be reduced by a number of shares equal in value to the differential between $39,285,000 and the actual FNB Closing Capital.

The amount of Glacier common stock exchanged for each share of FNB common stock may also be adjusted in certain circumstances if Glacier common stock is trading either higher or lower than prices specified in the merger agreement immediately prior to the closing of the merger, in order to avoid termination of the merger agreement as follows:

- If the “average closing price” (determined over a 20 trading day period prior to the closing of the merger, calculated 10 days prior to the closing) of Glacier’s common stock exceeds $46.63, Glacier may terminate the merger agreement, unless FNB elects to accept a reduction on a per-share basis of the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger.
- Conversely, if the “average closing price” is (i) less than $34.47 and the price of Glacier common stock has underperformed the KBW Regional Banking Index by more than 10% or (ii) less than $32.44, FNB may terminate the merger agreement, unless Glacier elects to increase on a per-share basis the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger, or in Glacier's discretion, Glacier pays cash, or a combination of cash and additional Glacier shares, so that the value of the consideration equals an amount specified in the merger agreement. See "The Merger – Termination of the Merger Agreement."

On March 11, 2019, the closing price of Glacier common stock was $41.06 per share.

By voting to approve the merger agreement, FNB shareholders will give the FNB Board the authority to elect to cause FNB to accept a reduction on a per-share basis of the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger if the Glacier average closing price exceeds $46.63 as described above. See "The Merger – Termination of the Merger Agreement."

Assuming the exchange of all outstanding FNB common stock for Glacier common stock in accordance with the merger agreement, FNB shareholders will own, in the aggregate, approximately 2.36% of Glacier's outstanding common stock following the merger.

How soon after the merger is completed can I expect to receive my merger consideration?

Glacier will work with its exchange agent, American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC, to distribute consideration payable in the merger as promptly as practicable following the completion of the merger.

Will the shares of Glacier common stock that I receive in the merger be freely transferable?

Yes. The Glacier common stock issued in the merger will be transferable free of restrictions under federal and state securities laws.

When will the merger occur?

We presently expect to complete the merger during the second quarter of 2019. The actual timing of the transaction is subject to a number of factors (primarily regulatory approvals), many of which are beyond the control of Glacier and FNB. The merger is conditioned upon and will occur after the approval of the merger agreement by the affirmative vote of holders of at least a majority of the shares of FNB common stock, after the merger has received regulatory approvals, and following the satisfaction or waiver of the other conditions to the merger described in the merger agreement and summarized under "The Merger" below.

If the merger does not occur by September 30, 2019, either Glacier or FNB may unilaterally terminate the merger agreement. However, if as of September 30, 2019, the condition to closing that all required governmental regulatory approvals have been obtained has not been satisfied, then the deadline for closing of the merger will be extended to on or before November 30, 2019, if Glacier notifies FNB in writing on or prior to September 30, 2019 of its election to extend such closing deadline.

When and where will the special meeting take place?

FNB will hold a special meeting of its shareholders on April 18, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. Mountain Time, at the Davis Conference Center located at 1651 North 700 West, Layton, Utah 84041.

Who may vote at the special meeting?

The FNB Board has set March 6, 2019 as the record date for the special meeting. If you were the owner of FNB common stock at the close of business on March 6, 2019, you may vote at the special meeting.

What vote is required to approve the merger agreement?

Approval of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FNB's outstanding common stock. As described in this proxy statement, FNB's directors and executive officers have agreed to vote the shares they are entitled to vote in favor of the merger agreement. As of the date hereof, such persons are entitled to vote 1,357,605 shares of FNB common stock, representing approximately 42.95% of all outstanding shares of FNB common stock. See "FNB Special Shareholders' Meeting" and "The Merger – Voting Agreement."

What vote is required to approve the adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate?

If less than a quorum is represented at the special meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the special meeting without further notice. The proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies, will be approved if the votes cast in favor of the proposal exceed the votes cast against the proposal, assuming a quorum is present. If less than a quorum is represented at the special meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the meeting without further notice.

How do I vote?

If you were a shareholder of record on March 6, 2019, you may vote on the proposals presented at the special meeting in person or by proxy. We urge you to vote promptly by completing the enclosed proxy card. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, we recommend that you vote your shares in advance as described below so that your vote will be counted if you later decide not to attend the special meeting.

You may cast your vote by mail by completing, signing and dating the enclosed proxy card and returning it to us promptly in the enclosed envelope. Returning the proxy card will not affect your right to attend the special meeting and vote.

If you choose to vote your shares in person at the special meeting, please bring the enclosed proxy card and proof of identification.

Can I change my vote after I have mailed my signed proxy card?

Yes. You may change your vote at any time before your proxy is voted at the special meeting. If your shares of FNB common stock are held in your own name, you may change your vote as follows:

- By sending a written notice to the Secretary of FNB at 12 South Main, Layton Utah 84041, ATTN: Secretary, Shelly Holt, stating that you would like to revoke your proxy and provide new instructions on how to vote;
- By completing and submitting a later-dated proxy card; or

- By attending the meeting and voting in person.

If you choose either the first or second method above, you must submit your notice of revocation or your new proxy card to FNB's Secretary prior to the vote at the special meeting.

What happens if I return my proxy but do not indicate how to vote my shares?

If you sign and return your proxy card but do not provide instructions on how to vote your shares of FNB common stock at the special meeting of shareholders, your shares of FNB common stock will be voted "FOR" approval of the merger agreement and "FOR" approval of one or more adjournments of the special meeting.

How does the FNB Board recommend that I vote?

The FNB Board unanimously recommends that FNB shareholders vote "FOR" the proposals described in this proxy statement/prospectus, including in favor of approval of the merger agreement.

What do I need to do now?

We encourage you to read this proxy statement/prospectus and related information in its entirety. Important information is presented in greater detail elsewhere in this document, and documents governing the merger are attached as appendices to this proxy statement/prospectus. In addition, much of the business and financial information about Glacier that may be important to you is incorporated by reference into this document from documents separately filed by Glacier with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC"). This means that important disclosure obligations to you are satisfied by referring you to one or more documents separately filed with the SEC.

Following review of this proxy statement/prospectus, please complete, sign, and date the enclosed proxy card and return it in the enclosed envelope as soon as possible so that your shares of FNB common stock can be voted at FNB's special meeting of shareholders.

Should I send in my common stock certificates now?

No. Please do not send your FNB common stock certificates with your proxy card. You will receive written instructions from Glacier's exchange agent promptly following the closing of the merger on how to exchange your FNB common stock certificates for the merger consideration.

What risks should I consider?

You should review carefully our discussion under "Risk Factors." You should also review the factors considered by the FNB Board in approving the merger agreement. See "Background of and Reasons for the Merger."

What are the material United States federal income tax consequences of the merger to FNB shareholders?

Glacier and FNB expect to report the merger of FNB with and into Glacier as a tax-free reorganization for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Internal Revenue Code"). It is a condition to the closing of the merger that Miller Nash Graham & Dunn LLP, tax counsel to Glacier, deliver an opinion addressed to Glacier and FNB that the merger will qualify as a reorganization under Section 368(a).

In a tax-free reorganization, a shareholder who exchanges his, her or its shares of common stock in an acquired company for shares of common stock in an acquiring company must generally recognize gain (but not loss) on the exchange in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) the amount of gain realized (i.e., the excess of the sum of the fair market value of the shares of the acquiring company common stock (including any fractional shares) and any cash received pursuant to the merger (excluding any cash received in lieu of fractional shares) over the shareholder's adjusted tax basis in his, her or its shares of acquired company common stock surrendered pursuant to the merger), or (2) the amount of any cash (excluding any cash received in lieu of fractional shares) received pursuant to the merger.

For a detailed discussion of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger, see "The Merger – Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger."

We urge you to consult your tax advisor to fully understand the tax consequences to you of the merger. Tax matters are very complicated and in many cases the tax consequences of the merger will depend upon your particular facts and circumstances.

Do I have appraisal or dissenters' rights?

Yes. If you are an FNB shareholder and you do not agree with the merger, do not vote in favor of the merger agreement, and take certain other actions required by Utah law, you will have dissenters' rights under the Utah Revised Business Corporations Act, Sections 1301 through 1331. Exercise of these rights will result in the purchase of your shares of FNB common stock at "fair value," as determined in accordance with Utah law. If you elect to exercise this right, we encourage you to consult with your financial and legal advisors. Please read the section entitled "The Merger – Dissenters' Rights" for additional information.

The merger agreement provides for the merger of FNB with and into Glacier, and immediately thereafter, the merger of the Bank with and into Glacier Bank. In the merger, your shares of FNB common stock, if you do not dissent, will be exchanged for the right to receive shares of Glacier common stock.

In the merger, Glacier will issue shares of its common stock in exchange for all shares of FNB common stock outstanding as of the date of the closing of the merger, except properly dissenting shares. Each outstanding share of FNB will be exchanged for 0.6474 shares of Glacier common stock, subject to adjustment as described below.

Assuming the exchange of all outstanding FNB common stock for stock in accordance with the merger agreement, FNB shareholders will own approximately 2.36% of Glacier's outstanding common stock following the merger. After the merger, you will no longer own shares of FNB. For additional information, see the discussion under the heading "The Merger" below.

The merger agreement is attached as Appendix A to this proxy statement/prospectus. We encourage you to read the merger agreement in its entirety.

If the average closing price of Glacier stock calculated in accordance with the merger agreement exceeds $46.63, Glacier may elect to terminate the merger agreement unless FNB elects to accept a decrease on a per-share basis in the number of Glacier shares to be issued in order to avoid termination of the merger agreement.

Conversely, if the average closing price of Glacier stock calculated in accordance with the merger agreement is (i) less than $34.47 and the price of Glacier common stock has underperformed the KBW Regional Banking Index by more than 10% or (ii) less than $32.44, FNB may terminate the merger agreement, unless Glacier elects to increase on a per-share basis the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger, or in Glacier's discretion, Glacier pays cash, or a combination of cash and additional Glacier shares, so that the value of the consideration equals an amount specified in the merger agreement.

Glacier will not issue fractional shares and will instead pay cash in lieu of such fractional shares, as described under "The Merger – Fractional Shares" below.

If the FNB Closing Capital exceeds $39,285,000, subject to certain adjustments, FNB may, upon written notice to Glacier and effective immediately prior to the closing of the merger, declare and pay a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount of such excess.

If the FNB Closing Capital is less than $39,285,000, the total Glacier stock consideration will be reduced by a number of shares equal in value to the amount of the shortfall.

"FNB Closing Capital" is defined in the merger agreement and is equal to an amount, estimated as of the closing date of the merger, equal to FNB's capital stock, surplus and retained earnings, determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") on a consolidated basis, net of goodwill and other intangible assets, after giving effect to adjustments, calculated in accordance with GAAP, for accumulated other comprehensive income or loss as reported in FNB's or the Bank's balance sheet. FNB's Closing Capital is subject to downward adjustment if transaction-related expenses exceed certain thresholds set forth in the merger agreement.

Recommendation of FNB Board

The FNB Board unanimously recommends that holders of FNB common stock vote "FOR" the proposal to approve the merger agreement.

For further discussion of FNB's reasons for the merger and the recommendations of the FNB Board, see "Background of and Reasons for the Merger – Reasons for the Merger – FNB."

Opinion of FNB's Financial Advisor

In connection with the merger, FNB's financial advisor, Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P., delivered a written opinion, dated January 15, 2019, to the FNB Board as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of the opinion, to the holders of FNB common stock of the merger consideration in the proposed merger. The full text of the opinion, which describes the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered, and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler O'Neill in preparing the opinion, is attached as Appendix C to this document. The opinion was for the information of, and was directed to, the FNB Board (in its capacity as such) in connection with its consideration of the financial terms of the merger. The opinion did not address the underlying business decision of FNB to engage in the merger or enter into the merger agreement or constitute a recommendation to the FNB Board in connection with the merger, and it does not constitute a recommendation to any holder of FNB common stock or any shareholder of any other entity as to how to vote in connection with the merger or any other matter.

For further information, see “Background of and Reasons for the Merger – Opinion of FNB’s Financial Advisor.”

Interests of FNB Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

When you consider the unanimous recommendation of the FNB Board that FNB’s shareholders approve the merger agreement, you should be aware that certain members of FNB’s and/or the Bank’s management have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, their interests as FNB shareholders. These interests arise out of, among other things, voting and non-competition agreements entered into by the directors and executive officers of FNB, employment agreements entered into by certain FNB and Bank executive officers, Glacier’s agreement to appoint several FNB directors to an advisory board and provisions in the merger agreement relating to indemnification of FNB directors and officers. For a description of the interests of FNB’s directors and executive officers in the merger, see “The Merger – Interests of FNB Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger.”

The FNB Board was aware of these interests and took them into account in its decision to approve the merger agreement.

FNB Shareholders Dissenters’ Rights

Under Utah law, FNB shareholders have the right to dissent from the merger and receive cash for the “fair value” of their shares of FNB common stock. The procedures required under Utah law are described later in this document, and a copy of the relevant statutory provisions is attached as Appendix B. For more information on dissenters’ rights, see “The Merger – Dissenters’ Rights.”

Regulatory Matters

Each of Glacier and FNB has agreed to use its commercially reasonable efforts to obtain all regulatory approvals required by the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. These approvals include approval or a waiver from the Federal Reserve, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Commissioner of the Montana Division of Banking and Financial Institutions. Applications have been filed with these regulatory bodies seeking such approvals. We expect to obtain all such regulatory approvals, although we cannot be certain if or when we will obtain them. See “The Merger – Regulatory Requirements.”

Conditions to Completion of the Merger

Currently, Glacier and FNB expect to complete the merger during the second quarter of 2019. As more fully described in this proxy statement and in the merger agreement, the completion of the merger depends on a number of conditions being satisfied or, where legally permissible, waived. Neither Glacier nor FNB can provide assurance as to when or if all of the conditions to the merger can or will be satisfied or waived. See “The Merger – Conditions to the Merger.”

Termination of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement provides that either Glacier or FNB may terminate the merger agreement either before or after the FNB special meeting, under certain circumstances. See “The Merger – Termination of the Merger Agreement.”

Break-Up Fee

The merger agreement provides that FNB must pay Glacier a break-up fee of $3,200,000 if the merger agreement is terminated (i) by Glacier if the FNB Board fails to recommend approval of the merger agreement by FNB’s shareholders or modifies, withdraws or adversely changes its recommendation, or (ii) by the FNB Board due to its determination that an acquisition proposal received by FNB constitutes a “Superior Proposal” (as defined in the merger agreement), which is acted upon by FNB, or (iii) by Glacier because an “Acquisition Event” (as defined in the merger agreement) with respect to FNB has occurred. In addition, a break-up fee of $3,200,000 will be due to Glacier if the merger agreement is terminated (1) by Glacier or FNB due to a failure of FNB’s shareholders to approve the merger agreement, (2) by Glacier for FNB’s breach of certain covenants set forth in the merger agreement or (3) by Glacier because a third party has made a proposal to FNB or its shareholders to engage in, or enter into an agreement with respect to, an Acquisition Event and the merger agreement and the merger are not approved by FNB’s shareholders and within 18 months after any such termination described in clauses (1) through (3) above, FNB or the Bank enters into an agreement for, or publicly announces its intention to engage in, an Acquisition Event or within 18 months after any such termination described in clauses (1) through (3) above, an Acquisition Event will have occurred.

FNB agreed to pay the break-up fee under the circumstances described above in order to induce Glacier to enter into the merger agreement. This arrangement could have the effect of discouraging other companies from trying to acquire FNB. See “The Merger – Break-up Fee.”

FNB Shareholders’ Rights After the Merger

The rights of FNB shareholders are governed by Utah law, as well as by FNB’s amended and restated articles of incorporation (“FNB’s articles”) and amended and restated bylaws (“FNB’s bylaws”). After completion of the merger, the rights of the former FNB shareholders receiving Glacier common stock in the merger will be governed by Montana law, and will be governed by Glacier’s amended and restated articles of incorporation (“Glacier’s articles”) and amended and restated bylaws (“Glacier’s bylaws”). Although Glacier’s articles and Glacier’s bylaws are similar in many ways to FNB’s articles and FNB’s bylaws, there are some substantive and procedural differences that will affect the rights of FNB shareholders. See “Comparison of Certain Rights of Holders of Glacier and FNB Common Stock.”

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this document, including the matters addressed under the caption “Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements,” you should consider the matters described below carefully in determining whether or not to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Risks Associated with the Proposed Merger

Because you are receiving a fixed number of shares (subject to adjustment) and the market price of the Glacier common stock may fluctuate, you cannot be sure of the value of the shares of Glacier common stock that you will receive.

At the time of the FNB special shareholder meeting, and prior to the closing of the merger, you will not be able to determine the value of the Glacier common stock that you will receive upon completion of the merger. Any change in the market price of Glacier common stock prior to completion of the merger will affect the value of the consideration that FNB shareholders will receive in the merger. Common stock price changes may result from a variety of factors, including but not limited to general market and economic conditions, changes in Glacier’s business, operations and prospects, and regulatory considerations. Many of these factors are beyond the control of Glacier or FNB. On March 11, 2019, the closing price of Glacier common stock was $41.06. You should obtain current market prices for Glacier common stock.

The merger agreement provides that the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued for each share of FNB common stock in the merger may be decreased or increased, as the case may be, if the average closing price of Glacier common stock, determined pursuant to the merger agreement, is greater than or less than specified prices. If Glacier’s average closing price determined in accordance with the merger agreement is greater than $46.63 and Glacier elects to terminate the merger agreement, the FNB Board would determine, without resoliciting the vote of FNB shareholders, whether or not to accept a decrease on a per-share basis in the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger to avoid such termination. See “The Merger – Termination of the Merger Agreement.”

The merger agreement limits FNB’s ability to pursue other transactions and provides for the payment of a break-up fee if FNB does so.

While the merger agreement is in effect, subject to very narrow exceptions, FNB and its directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives are prohibited from initiating or encouraging inquiries with respect to alternative acquisition proposals. The prohibition limits FNB’s ability to seek offers from other potential acquirers that may be superior from a financial point of view to the proposed transaction. If FNB receives an unsolicited proposal from a third party that is superior from a financial point of view to that made by Glacier and the merger agreement is terminated, FNB will be required to pay a $3,200,000 break-up fee. This fee makes it less likely that a third party will make an alternative acquisition proposal. See “The Merger – Break-Up Fee.”

Combining our two companies may be more challenging, costly or time-consuming than we expect.

Glacier and FNB have operated and, until the completion of the merger, will continue to operate, independently. Although Glacier has successfully completed numerous mergers in the recent past, it is possible that the integration of the Bank into Glacier Bank could result in the loss of key employees, the disruption of the ongoing business of the Bank or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies that adversely affect our ability to maintain relationships with customers and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits of the merger. As with any merger of banking institutions, there also may be disruptions that cause us to lose customers or cause customers to take their deposits out of the Bank.

Unanticipated costs relating to the merger could reduce Glacier's future earnings per share.

Glacier believes that it has reasonably and conservatively estimated the likely costs of integrating the operations of the Bank into Glacier Bank, and the incremental costs of operating as a combined financial institution. However, it is possible that unexpected transaction costs or future operating expenses, as well as other types of unanticipated adverse developments, could have a material adverse effect on the results of operations and financial condition of Glacier after the merger. If the merger is completed and unexpected costs are incurred, the merger could have a dilutive effect on Glacier's earnings per share, meaning earnings per share could be less than they would be if the merger had not been completed.

Glacier has provisions in its articles of incorporation that could impede a takeover of Glacier.

Glacier's articles contain provisions providing for, among other things, preferred stock and super majority shareholder approval of certain business combinations. Although these provisions were not adopted for the express purpose of preventing or impeding the takeover of Glacier without the approval of Glacier's board of directors, they may have that effect. Such provisions may prevent you from taking part in a transaction in which you could realize a premium over the current market price of Glacier common stock. See "Comparison of Certain Rights of Holders of Glacier and FNB Common Stock" for a description of Glacier's potential takeover provisions.

After the merger is completed, FNB shareholders will become Glacier shareholders and will have different rights that may be less advantageous than their current rights.

Upon completion of the merger, FNB shareholders will become Glacier shareholders. Differences in FNB's articles and FNB's bylaws and Glacier's articles and Glacier's bylaws will result in changes to the rights of FNB shareholders who become Glacier shareholders. See "Comparison of Certain Rights of Holders of Glacier and FNB Common Stock."

Risks Associated with Glacier's Business

Glacier is, and will continue to be, subject to the risks described in Glacier's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018, and subsequent Current Reports on Form 8-K, all of which are filed with the SEC and incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. See "References to Additional Information" and "Where You Can Find More Information" included elsewhere in this proxy statement/prospectus.

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This document, including information included or incorporated by reference in this document may contain forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, (i) statements about the benefits of the merger, including future financial and operating results, cost savings, enhancements to revenue and accretion to reported earnings that may be realized from the merger; (ii) statements about our respective plans, objectives, expectations and intentions and other statements that are not historical facts; and (iii) other statements identified by words such as “expects,” “anticipates,” “intends,” “plans,” “believes,” “seeks,” “estimates,” or words of similar meaning. These forward-looking statements are based on current beliefs and expectations of management and are inherently subject to significant business, economic and competitive uncertainties and contingencies, many of which are beyond Glacier’s and FNB’s control. In addition, these forward-looking statements are subject to assumptions with respect to future business strategies and decisions that are subject to change.

In addition to factors previously disclosed in Glacier’s reports filed with the SEC relating to risks to Glacier’s business and stock price, and those identified elsewhere in this document (including the section entitled “Risk Factors”), the following potential factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ materially from the anticipated results or other expectations expressed or implied in the forward-looking statements:

- the merger may not close when expected or at all because required regulatory, shareholder or other approvals and other conditions to closing are not received or satisfied on a timely basis or at all;
- Glacier’s stock price could change before closing of the merger due to, among other things, stock market movements and the performance of financial companies and peer group companies, over which Glacier has no control;
- benefits from the merger may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected, including as a result of changes in general economic and market conditions and the degree of competition in the geographic and business areas in which Glacier and FNB operate;
- FNB’s business may not be integrated into Glacier’s successfully, or such integration may take longer to accomplish than expected;
- the anticipated growth opportunities and cost savings from the merger may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected; and
- operating costs, customer losses and business disruption following the merger, including adverse developments in relationships with customers, employees, and counterparties may be greater than expected.

All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements concerning the proposed transaction or other matters attributable to Glacier or FNB or any person acting on behalf of Glacier or FNB are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements above. Neither Glacier nor FNB undertakes any obligation to update any forward-looking statements to reflect circumstances or events that occur after the date the forward-looking statements are made.

FNB Common Stock

FNB common stock is not listed on a stock market or quoted on any “over-the-counter” market and has been traded only very infrequently. Accordingly, there is no established trading market for FNB common stock. The trades that have occurred have been in accordance with the terms of the Amended and Restated Shareholder Agreement (as subsequently amended, the “Shareholder Agreement”). FNB shares covered by the Shareholder Agreement are generally subject to a right of first refusal of FNB and FNB shareholders other than the proposed transferee. The Shareholder Agreement also prohibits any transfer of FNB shares that would, or with the passage of time would, cause a termination of FNB’s election to be subject to subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code. Upon consummation of the merger, the Shareholder Agreement will be terminated.

FNB has historically paid dividends on its common stock based upon the estimated tax liability of its shareholders arising from the pass through of FNB income to shareholders under state and federal income tax law. FNB has historically declared and paid dividends based upon assumed marginal state and federal income tax rates as well as payout ratios of earnings from operations. Total dividends per share were $0.72 in 2015, 0.76 in 2016 and $1.05 in 2017.

At March 6, 2019, the 3,160,969 outstanding shares of FNB common stock were held by approximately 147 holders of record.

FNB SPECIAL SHAREHOLDERS' MEETING

Date, Time, Place

The FNB special meeting of shareholders will be held on April 18, 2019, at 10:00 a.m. Mountain Time, at the Davis Conference Center located at 1651 North 700 West, Layton, Utah 84041.

As described below under “Votes Required and Quorum,” approval of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the shares of FNB’s outstanding common stock. The proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies, will be approved if the votes cast in favor of the proposal exceed the votes cast against the proposal, assuming a quorum is present. If less than a quorum is represented at the special meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the special meeting without further notice.

Purpose

At the special meeting, FNB shareholders will:

- Consider and vote on a proposal to approve the Plan and Agreement of Merger, dated as of January 16, 2019, among Glacier, Glacier Bank, FNB and the Bank, under the terms of which FNB will merge with and into Glacier and the Bank will merge with and into Glacier Bank. The merger agreement is attached as Appendix A.
- Approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies in favor of the merger agreement.

Record Date; Shares Outstanding and Entitled to Vote

The FNB Board has fixed 5:00 p.m. Mountain Time on March 6, 2019 as the record date for determining the holders of shares of FNB common stock entitled to notice of and to vote at the special meeting. At the close of business on the record date, there were approximately 147 holders of record and 3,160,969 shares of FNB common stock issued and outstanding. Holders of record of FNB common stock on the record date are entitled to one vote per share and are also entitled to exercise dissenters’ rights if certain procedures are followed. See “The Merger – Dissenters’ Rights” and Appendix B.

FNB’s directors and executive officers have agreed to vote all shares of FNB common stock they are entitled to vote that are held or controlled by them in favor of approval of the merger agreement. As of the date hereof, a total of 1,357,605 shares of FNB common stock, representing approximately 42.95% of all outstanding shares of FNB common stock, are covered by the voting agreement. See “The Merger – Interests of FNB Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger – Voting Agreement.”

Votes Required and Quorum

The affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FNB’s outstanding common stock is required to approve the merger agreement. At least a majority of the total outstanding shares of FNB common stock must be present, either in person or by proxy, in order to constitute a quorum for the special meeting. For purposes of determining a quorum, abstentions are counted in determining the shares present at a meeting.

Table of Contents

For voting purposes, however, shares must be affirmatively voted FOR approval of the merger agreement in order to be counted as votes in favor of the merger. As a result, abstentions with respect to the proposal to approve the merger agreement will have the same effect as votes against such proposal.

If less than a quorum is represented at the special meeting, a majority of the shares so represented may adjourn the special meeting without further notice. The proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to solicit additional proxies, will be approved if the votes cast in favor of the proposal exceed the votes cast against the proposal, assuming a quorum is present.

Voting, Solicitation, and Revocation of Proxies

If the enclosed proxy card is duly executed and received in time for the special meeting, it will be voted in accordance with the instructions given. If the proxy card is duly executed and received but no instructions are given, it is the intention of the persons named in the proxy to vote the shares represented by the proxy FOR the approval of the merger agreement and FOR the proposal to approve one or more adjournments to solicit additional proxies, and in the proxy holder's discretion on any other matter properly coming before the meeting. Any proxy given by a shareholder may be revoked before its exercise by:

- sending written notice to the Secretary of FNB;
- completing and submitting a later-dated proxy; or
- attending and voting at the special meeting in person.

FNB is soliciting the proxy for the special meeting on behalf of the FNB Board. FNB will bear the cost of solicitation of proxies from its shareholders. In addition to using the mail, FNB may solicit proxies by personal interview, telephone, and facsimile. Banks, brokerage houses, other institutions, nominees, and fiduciaries will be requested to forward their proxy soliciting material to their principals and obtain authorization for the execution of proxies. FNB does not expect to pay any compensation for the solicitation of proxies. However, FNB will, upon request, pay the standard charges and expenses of banks, brokerage houses, other institutions, nominees, and fiduciaries for forwarding proxy materials to and obtaining proxies from their principals.

Voting in Person at the Special Meeting

Shares held directly in your name as the shareholder of record may be voted in person at the special meeting. If you choose to vote your shares of FNB common stock in person, please bring the enclosed proxy card or proof of identification. Even if you plan to attend the special meeting, we recommend that you vote your shares of FNB common stock in advance as described above so that your vote will be counted if you later decide not to attend the special meeting.

BACKGROUND OF AND REASONS FOR THE MERGER

Background of the Merger

From time to time, the FNB Board has discussed, analyzed and considered the value and significance of FNB to its shareholders, customers, and employees, as well as the vital role it has played in the local community for over 110 years. In recent years, several bank holding companies have expressed interest in pursuing a combination with FNB, including a merger of equals and an acquisition by a larger institution. As part of its responsibility to consider these expressions of interest, the FNB Board engaged Sandler O'Neill in April of 2014 to provide strategic advisory services to FNB. The FNB Board considered each of the opportunities as they arose, and each time the FNB Board ultimately determined that remaining independent was in the best interests of the shareholders they represented.

Like many other community banks, the FNB Board has strategized around a number of business issues including: increasing competition from bank and non-bank institutions, continued allowance of regulatory overreach from local credit unions, heightened compliance and regulatory risk, succession planning around an aging management team, and maintaining loan growth in the face of rising real estate lending concentrations. At an FNB Board meeting in May of 2018, President and Chief Executive Officer K. John Jones presented a shareholder value analysis. The FNB Board considered the analysis and its duty to maximize value for shareholders, as well its responsibility for maintaining the historic legacy of service to the local community, dedicated employees, and the loyal customer base. The FNB Board concluded that remaining independent was in the best interests of the shareholders but confirmed that if FNB received a bona fide acquisition proposal that would reasonably be expected to result in a certain value for shareholders, that the FNB Board would need to seriously consider the proposal as an alternative to remaining independent, consistent with its fiduciary duty to the shareholders.

Following the FNB Board's decision to remain independent, Mr. Jones contacted representatives of Sandler O'Neill in early July of 2018 and terminated the existing engagement letter.

Later in July of 2018 the Chief Executive Officer of a bank holding company, which we refer to as Company A, met with FNB's Chairman, Kevin Garn, to discuss business opportunities between Company A and FNB. At the meeting, Company A's Chief Executive Officer expressed his strong interest in acquiring FNB and expressed Company A's willingness to pay a significant merger premium. Following the meeting, Chairman Garn and Mr. Jones discussed the meeting with representatives of Sandler O'Neill and determined it was likely that Company A would make an acquisition proposal that would meet or exceed the threshold established by the FNB Board at its May 2018 meeting. Accordingly, Chairman Garn and Mr. Jones directed representatives of Sandler O'Neill to contact Company A to try to determine the maximum value that Company A would be willing to offer FNB in an acquisition proposal. As part of this discussion, Chairman Garn, Mr. Jones and representatives of Sandler O'Neill also discussed Glacier and two other potential acquirors and the potential values that they might be willing to offer FNB in an acquisition. Following this conversation, representatives of Sandler O'Neill were instructed to contact Glacier and two other bank holding companies, which we refer to as Company B and Company C, to gauge their interest in a possible acquisition of FNB.

Throughout August, representatives of Sandler O'Neill held conversations with Glacier, Company A and Company B about the potential acquisition of FNB. Company C had previously expressed interest in acquiring FNB but had now determined that it was not interested in pursuing acquisition discussions with FNB at that time. The conversations with Glacier, Company A and Company B included the sharing of publicly available information along with some high-level guidance on acquisition assumptions. In addition to the conversations with representatives of Sandler O'Neill, each of the companies met with Chairman Garn and Mr. Jones. In these meetings, Chairman Garn and Mr. Jones emphasized that FNB intended to remain independent, but would seriously consider an acquisition proposal if it met certain criteria. Maximizing value for FNB shareholders was of primary importance, but preserving FNB's rich legacy, minimizing employee impact, and continuing to support the local community were also important considerations of the FNB Board.

On September 7, 2018 representatives from Glacier met with Chairman Garn, Mr. Jones and other members of the FNB executive team in Layton, Utah.

On September 14, 2018, Company B submitted a non-binding letter of intent outlining the proposed terms of an acquisition of FNB for merger consideration comprised of 75% Company B common stock and 25% cash. At that time, there was no public market for Company B's common stock, but Company B provided an estimate of the value of Company B stock. Company B further indicated that it was not prepared to proceed with a transaction immediately, but expected to be ready to commence due diligence and the negotiation of definitive merger documents during the first quarter of 2019.

On October 10, 2018, Glacier submitted a non-binding letter of intent outlining the principal terms for the proposed acquisition of FNB in exchange for Glacier common stock based on a fixed exchange ratio of 0.5770 Glacier shares in exchange for each share of FNB stock.

Also on October 10, 2018, Company A submitted a non-binding letter of intent outlining the principal terms for the proposed acquisition of FNB in exchange for Company A common stock, which was publicly traded, based on a fixed exchange ratio.

Representatives of Sandler O'Neill discussed the non-binding letters of intent with Glacier and Company A and Company B, respectively, and provided additional information as requested.

On October 23, 2018, after review of additional information presented, Glacier submitted an updated letter of intent in which it increased the exchange ratio to 0.6652 Glacier shares in exchange for each share of FNB stock.

On October 28, 2018, the FNB Board met with representatives of Sandler O'Neill and legal counsel to discuss the three non-binding letters of intent. An overall lower valuation and the lack of a public trading market for Company B's stock made Company B's proposal less desirable than the proposals from Company A and Glacier. Based on recent closing stock prices as of the meeting date, the value of Company A's proposal was estimated at $27.32 per FNB share and the value of Glacier's proposal was estimated at $26.84 per FNB share. The FNB Board considered the value of the proposals on that day and over the prior six months. The FNB Board reviewed the attributes of Glacier and Company A stock including valuation multiples, historical stock price performance, daily stock trading volume, quarterly cash dividends and institutional research analyst recommendations. The FNB Board reviewed the historical financial performance and acquisition track-record of each of Glacier and Company A, recognizing the deal values for each would fluctuate on a daily basis. The FNB Board considered the strategic implications of the Glacier proposal and the expectation that based on Glacier's intention to create a new Utah division comprised of the operations of FNB's and Glacier Bank's Utah branches, it was expected that a merger with Glacier would have a limited impact on FNB's employees. Additionally, the new division would be able to operate with a certain level of autonomy after the merger, and be better positioned to understand and serve the local community. In contrast, the FNB Board expected that Company A's proposal would result in more employee job loss and a potential disruption to FNB's business. The FNB Board considered the proposals against FNB's expected performance on a stand-alone basis. After considering all three proposals and evaluating FNB's stand-alone prospects, the FNB Board concluded that the Glacier proposal was superior to the other alternatives. FNB's operations as part of a separate division with a local advisory board would best serve its customers, employees and community, and would likely provide a higher value to shareholders over the long-term, than remaining independent. Accordingly, the FNB Board decided to move forward with the proposal from Glacier, subject to satisfactory resolution of a few terms of the letter of intent.

Between October 28 and October 30, 2018, FNB and Glacier, with assistance of their respective legal counsel and financial advisors, negotiated several aspects of Glacier's letter of intent. After several discussions and consideration, Glacier and FNB signed a nonbinding letter of intent on October 30, 2018 which described the principal merger terms and provided that FNB would negotiate with Glacier exclusively for a period of 90 days. Accordingly, FNB's discussions with Company A and Company B ceased.

Between October 30, 2018 and January 15, 2019, Glacier, FNB and their respective legal counsel and financial advisors conducted appropriate due diligence and drafted and negotiated the merger agreement and related ancillary agreements. FNB provided Glacier with information regarding, among other things, the financial aspects of its business, its markets and its operations. Glacier provided FNB with information regarding, among other things, its employee benefit policies, its insurance policies and its non-competition arrangements with its directors and executive officers.

On September 6 and 7, 2018, representatives from Glacier were accompanied by representatives of FNB on a due diligence trip to review the branches of FNB and its markets. Glacier representatives met with representatives from FNB to discuss the transaction and conduct due diligence interviews.

On January 4, 2019, representatives of Glacier informed representatives of FNB that Glacier's due diligence revealed higher transaction expenses and a higher reserve for loan losses than initially anticipated. As a result, Glacier offered a reduced exchange ratio of 0.6474 Glacier shares in exchange for each FNB share.

On January 9, 2019, representatives from FNB, Sandler O'Neill and Glacier participated in a reverse due diligence conference call to provide information to FNB regarding Glacier and answer questions from FNB and Sandler O'Neill.

On January 10, 2019, the FNB Board, together with representatives of Sandler O'Neill and legal counsel, met to consider Glacier's due diligence findings, the reduced exchange ratio and the proposed definitive merger agreement as negotiated to date. Representatives of Sandler O'Neill reviewed the financial aspects of the proposed merger. FNB's legal counsel reviewed the specific terms of the merger agreement and the substantial process involved in negotiating its terms. The FNB Board considered all these matters and determined that the reduced offer still constituted a significant premium and unanimously confirmed its desire to proceed with the proposed merger.

On January 11, 2019, FNB management conducted onsite diligence at Glacier's headquarters.

On January 15, 2019, the FNB Board, together with representatives of Sandler O'Neill and legal counsel, again met to consider the negotiated proposed definitive merger agreement. Representatives of Sandler O'Neill reviewed the financial aspects of the proposed merger and rendered to the FNB Board a verbal opinion, which was subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of that date and subject to the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler O'Neill, the merger consideration in the proposed merger with Glacier was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of FNB common stock. Legal counsel then reviewed the terms of the proposed merger agreement and the changes to the proposed merger agreement since the FNB Board's January 10 meeting. Among other matters considered, the FNB Board reviewed the specific terms of the merger agreement, the form and value of the consideration to be received by FNB shareholders, the price and historical performance of Glacier common stock and related dividend payouts, current market conditions including comparable bank merger and acquisition transactions, the employment of certain FNB employees following the merger, and the implications of the merger to FNB's employees, customers, and communities. After due consideration of these and other matters, and taking into consideration the fairness opinion of Sandler O'Neill, the FNB Board unanimously approved entering into the merger agreement.

On January 15, 2019, the board of directors of Glacier, together with its legal counsel and representatives of Piper Jaffray & Co., met to consider approval of the definitive merger agreement. Piper Jaffray & Co. provided updated pro forma financial analyses and Glacier's legal counsel presented a review of the key terms of the merger agreement and related ancillary agreements. Among other matters discussed, the board of directors and Glacier's advisors summarized the results of due diligence reviews, the terms of the merger agreement and related ancillary agreements, key pricing metrics, the pro forma financial impact of the merger to Glacier's shareholders, the benefits of establishing a new bank division in Utah, risks of the merger, and the timing and process for consummation of the merger. After due consideration of these and other matters, the board of directors of Glacier approved the merger agreement.

The parties entered into the merger agreement on January 16, 2019. After the close of business on January 16, 2019, the parties issued a joint press release announcing the merger.

Reasons for the Merger – FNB

At a board meeting held on January 15, 2019, the FNB Board determined that the terms of the merger agreement were in the best interests of FNB and its shareholders. In the course of reaching this determination and related decision to approve the merger agreement, the FNB Board evaluated the merger and the merger agreement in consultation with the management of FNB and FNB's financial advisor and legal counsel. In reaching its determination, the FNB Board considered a number of factors. Such factors also constituted the reasons that the FNB Board determined to approve the merger agreement and to recommend that FNB shareholders vote in favor of the merger agreement. Such reasons included the following:

- the terms of the merger agreement and the value and form of consideration to be received by FNB shareholders in the merger;
- the historical trading ranges for Glacier common stock;
- the historic and prospective business of FNB and the strategic plan of FNB;
- the likely impact of the merger on the employees and customers of the Bank and the strategic plans, methods of operation and organizational structure of Glacier Bank;
- the illiquidity of FNB stock, FNB and Bank capital planning and capital retention and growth prospects;
- the geographic locations of Glacier Bank and the Bank;
- the belief that with Glacier's greater assets and broader market relative to FNB, Glacier common stock represents a greater diversification of risk for FNB shareholders than FNB common stock;

Table of Contents

- the election to be subject to Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code and limitations on the number and type of shareholders and the limitations on securities that FNB may issue;
- the effects of termination of the FNB election under Subchapter S including the aggregate tax liability of FNB and its shareholders;
- the Shareholder Agreement and the restrictions on transfer of FNB common stock;
- information concerning Glacier's financial condition and results of operations as well as the likelihood that Glacier would be able to obtain regulatory approval for the merger;
- the opinion, dated January 15, 2019, of Sandler O'Neill to the FNB Board as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of the opinion, to the holders of FNB common stock of the merger consideration in the proposed merger, as more fully described below under "Opinion of FNB's Financial Advisor";
- the expectation that FNB shareholders would have the opportunity to continue to participate in the growth of the combined company and would also benefit from the significantly greater liquidity of the trading market for Glacier common stock;
- that Glacier has historically paid cash dividends on its common stock;
- the fact that Glacier's common stock is widely held and has an active trading market, whereas FNB's stock is illiquid;
- the future employment opportunities for the existing employees of the Bank;
- the enhanced resources and the ability to meet the growing needs of the Bank's customers;
- the expectation that Glacier's plans to operate the Bank's offices and Glacier Bank's existing offices as a distinct division of Glacier Bank and Glacier's agreement to establish a local advisory board will allow retention of local decision making and preservation of a tradition of service to the Bank's local community following the merger;
- the provisions in the merger agreement that provide for the ability of the FNB Board to respond to an unsolicited acquisition proposal that the FNB Board determines in good faith is a superior proposal as defined in the merger agreement and to otherwise exercise its fiduciary and legal duties;
- the provisions of the merger agreement that provide for the ability of the FNB Board to terminate the merger agreement, subject to certain conditions, including the payment of a break-up fee, if FNB has entered into a definitive agreement with respect to a "Superior Proposal"; and
- the likelihood of the merger being approved by applicable regulatory authorities without undue conditions or delay.

The FNB Board also considered a number of uncertainties and risks in its deliberations concerning the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the following:

- that the merger consideration will be paid through the issuance of a fixed number of shares of Glacier common stock, and any decrease in the market price of Glacier common stock after the date of the merger agreement will result in a reduction in the merger consideration to be received by FNB shareholders at the time of completion of the merger, subject to the adjustment procedures described under “The Merger – Termination of the Merger Agreement”;
- that FNB shareholders will not necessarily know or be able to calculate the actual value of the merger consideration which they would receive upon completion of the merger;
- the possible disruption to FNB’s business that may result from the announcement of the merger and the resulting distraction of management’s attention from the day-to-day operations of FNB’s business; and
- the restrictions contained in the merger agreement on the operation of FNB’s business during the period between signing of the merger agreement and completion of the merger, as well as the other covenants and agreements of FNB contained in the merger agreement.

The foregoing discussion of the reasons that led the FNB Board to approve the merger agreement and recommend that FNB’s shareholders vote in favor of the merger agreement is not intended to be exhaustive but is believed to include all of the material reasons for the FNB Board’s decision. In reaching its determination to approve and recommend the transaction, the FNB Board based its recommendation on the totality of the information presented to it and did not assign any relative or specific weights to the reasons considered in reaching that determination. Individual directors may have given differing weights to different reasons. After deliberating with respect to the merger with Glacier, considering, among other things, the matters discussed above, the FNB Board unanimously approved the merger agreement and the merger with Glacier as being in the best interests of FNB and its shareholders.

Opinion of FNB’s Financial Advisor

FNB retained Sandler O’Neill to act as an independent financial advisor to FNB’s board of directors in connection with FNB’s consideration of a possible business combination. Sandler O’Neill is a nationally recognized investment banking firm whose principal business specialty is financial institutions. In the ordinary course of its investment banking business, Sandler O’Neill is regularly engaged in the valuation of financial institutions and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions.

Sandler O’Neill acted as an independent financial advisor in connection with the proposed transaction and participated in certain of the negotiations leading to the execution of the merger agreement. At the January 15, 2019 meeting at which FNB’s board of directors considered and discussed the terms of the merger agreement and the merger, Sandler O’Neill delivered to FNB’s board of directors its oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of January 15, 2019, the merger consideration provided for in the merger agreement was fair to the holders of FNB common stock from a financial point of view. The full text of Sandler O’Neill’s opinion is attached as Appendix C to this proxy statement/prospectus. The opinion outlines the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler O’Neill in rendering its opinion. The description of the opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion. Holders of FNB common stock are urged to read the entire opinion carefully in connection with their consideration of the proposed merger.

Sandler O’Neill’s opinion speaks only as of the date of the opinion. The opinion was directed to FNB’s board of directors in connection with its consideration of the merger agreement and the merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder of FNB as to how any such shareholder should vote at any meeting of shareholders called to consider and vote upon the approval of the merger agreement and the merger. Sandler O’Neill’s opinion was directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to the holders of FNB common stock and does not address the underlying business decision of FNB to engage in the merger, the form or structure of the merger or any other transactions contemplated in the merger agreement, the relative merits of the merger as compared to any other alternative transactions or business strategies that might exist for FNB or the effect of any other transaction in which FNB might engage. Sandler O’Neill did not express any opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to be received in the merger by any officer, director or employee of FNB or Glacier Bancorp, Inc. (or, for the purposes of this section, “GBCI”), or any class of such persons, if any, relative to the compensation to be received in the merger by any other shareholder, including the consideration to be received by the holders of FNB common stock. Sandler O’Neill’s opinion was approved by Sandler O’Neill’s fairness opinion committee. In connection with its opinion, Sandler O’Neill reviewed and considered, among other things:

- a draft of the merger agreement, dated January 14, 2019;
- certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of FNB and The First National Bank of Layton that Sandler O’Neill deemed relevant;
- certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of GBCI and Glacier Bank that Sandler O’Neill deemed relevant;
- internal net income projections for FNB for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020 with an annual net income growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by the senior management of FNB, as well as estimated dividends per share for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of FNB;
- publicly available consensus analyst earnings per share estimates for GBCI for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020, as well as a long-term earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter and dividend payout ratio for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of GBCI;
- the pro forma financial impact of the merger on GBCI based on certain assumptions relating to purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings and transaction expenses, as provided by the senior management of GBCI;
- the publicly reported historical price and trading activity for GBCI common stock, including a comparison of certain stock market information for GBCI common stock and certain stock indices as well as publicly available information for certain other similar companies, the securities of which were publicly traded;
- a comparison of certain financial information for FNB and GBCI with similar financial institutions for which information was publicly available;

- the financial terms of certain recent business combinations in the banking industry (on a nationwide basis), to the extent publicly available;
- the current market environment generally and the banking environment in particular; and
- such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria as Sandler O’Neill considered relevant.

Sandler O’Neill also discussed with certain members of the management of FNB and its representatives the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of FNB and held similar discussions with certain members of the management of GBCI and its representatives regarding the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of GBCI.

In performing its review, Sandler O’Neill relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was available to and reviewed by Sandler O’Neill from public sources, that was provided to Sandler O’Neill by FNB or GBCI or their respective representatives, or that was otherwise reviewed by Sandler O’Neill, and Sandler O’Neill assumed such accuracy and completeness for purposes of rendering its opinion without any independent verification or investigation. Sandler O’Neill relied on the assurances of the respective managements of FNB and GBCI that they were not aware of any facts or circumstances that would have made any of such information inaccurate or misleading. Sandler O’Neill was not asked to and did not undertake an independent verification of any of such information and Sandler O’Neill did not assume any responsibility or liability for the accuracy or completeness thereof. Sandler O’Neill did not make an independent evaluation or perform an appraisal of the specific assets, the collateral securing assets or the liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of FNB or GBCI or any of their respective subsidiaries, nor was Sandler O’Neill furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals. Sandler O’Neill rendered no opinion or evaluation on the collectability of any assets or the future performance of any loans of FNB or GBCI. Sandler O’Neill did not make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses of FNB or GBCI, or of the combined entity after the merger, and Sandler O’Neill did not review any individual credit files relating to FNB or GBCI. Sandler O’Neill assumed, with the consent of FNB, that the respective allowances for loan losses for both FNB and GBCI were adequate to cover such losses and would be adequate on a pro forma basis for the combined entity.

In preparing its analyses, Sandler O’Neill used internal net income projections for FNB for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020 with an annual net income growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by the senior management of FNB, as well as estimated dividends per share for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of FNB. In addition, Sandler O’Neill used publicly available consensus analyst earnings per share estimates for GBCI for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020, as well as a long-term earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter and dividend payout ratio for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of GBCI. Sandler O’Neill also received and used in its pro forma analyses certain assumptions relating to purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings and transaction expenses, as provided by the senior management of GBCI. With respect to the foregoing information, the respective senior managements of FNB and GBCI confirmed to Sandler O’Neill that such information reflected (or, in the case of the publicly available consensus analyst estimates referred to above, were consistent with) the best currently available projections, estimates and judgments of those respective managements as to the future financial performance of FNB and GBCI, respectively, and the other matters covered thereby, and Sandler O’Neill assumed that the future financial performance reflected in such information would be achieved. Sandler O’Neill expressed no opinion as to such information, or the assumptions on which such information was based. Sandler O’Neill also assumed that there had been no material change in the respective assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects of FNB or GBCI since the date of the most recent financial statements made available to Sandler O'Neill. Sandler O'Neill assumed in all respects material to its analysis that FNB and GBCI would remain as going concerns for all periods relevant to Sandler O'Neill's analysis.

Sandler O'Neill also assumed, with FNB's consent, that (i) each of the parties to the merger agreement would comply in all material respects with all material terms and conditions of the merger agreement and all related agreements, that all of the representations and warranties contained in such agreements were true and correct in all material respects, that each of the parties to such agreements would perform in all material respects all of the covenants and other obligations required to be performed by such party under such agreements and that the conditions precedent in such agreements were not and would not be waived, (ii) in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third party approvals, consents and releases with respect to the merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition would be imposed that would have an adverse effect on FNB, GBCI, the merger or any related transactions, and (iii) the merger and any related transactions would be consummated in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement without any waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement thereof and in compliance with all applicable laws and other requirements. Finally, with the consent of FNB, Sandler O'Neill relied upon the advice that FNB received from its legal, accounting and tax advisors as to all legal, accounting and tax matters relating to the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. Sandler O'Neill expressed no opinion as to any such matters.

Sandler O'Neill's opinion was necessarily based on financial, economic, regulatory, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Sandler O'Neill as of, the date thereof. Events occurring after the date thereof could materially affect Sandler O'Neill's opinion. Sandler O'Neill did not undertake to update, revise, reaffirm or withdraw its opinion or otherwise comment upon events occurring after the date thereof. Sandler O'Neill expressed no opinion as to the trading value of GBCI common stock at any time or what the value of GBCI common stock would be once it is actually received by the holders of FNB common stock.

In rendering its opinion, Sandler O'Neill performed a variety of financial analyses. The summary below is not a complete description of the analyses underlying Sandler O'Neill's opinion or the presentation made by Sandler O'Neill to FNB's board of directors, but is a summary of all material analyses performed and presented by Sandler O'Neill. The summary includes information presented in tabular format. In order to fully understand the financial analyses, these tables must be read together with the accompanying text. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving subjective judgments as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. The process, therefore, is not necessarily susceptible to a partial analysis or summary description. Sandler O'Neill believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of the factors and analyses to be considered without considering all factors and analyses, or attempting to ascribe relative weights to some or all such factors and analyses, could create an incomplete view of the evaluation process underlying its opinion. Also, no company included in Sandler O'Neill's comparative analyses described below is identical to FNB or GBCI and no transaction is identical to the merger. Accordingly, an analysis of comparable companies or transactions involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies and other factors that could affect the public trading values or transaction values, as the case may be, of FNB, GBCI and the companies to which they are being compared. In arriving at its opinion, Sandler O'Neill did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered. Rather, Sandler O'Neill made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. Sandler O'Neill did not form an opinion as to whether any individual analysis or factor (positive or negative) considered in isolation supported or failed to support its opinion, rather, Sandler O'Neill made its determination as to the fairness of the merger consideration on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all its analyses taken as a whole.

In performing its analyses, Sandler O’Neill also made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, business and economic conditions and various other matters, many of which are beyond the control of FNB, GBCI and Sandler O’Neill. The analyses performed by Sandler O’Neill are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, both of which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. Sandler O’Neill prepared its analyses solely for purposes of rendering its opinion and provided such analyses to FNB’s board of directors at its January 15, 2019 meeting. Estimates on the values of companies do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which companies or their securities may actually be sold. Such estimates are inherently subject to uncertainty and actual values may be materially different. Accordingly, Sandler O’Neill’s analyses do not necessarily reflect the value of FNB common stock or the prices at which FNB common stock or GBCI common stock may be sold at any time. The analyses of Sandler O’Neill and its opinion were among a number of factors taken into consideration by FNB’s board of directors in making its determination to approve the merger agreement and should not be viewed as determinative of the exchange ratio or the decision of FNB’s board of directors or management with respect to the fairness of the merger. The type and amount of consideration payable in the merger were determined through negotiation between FNB and GBCI.

Summary of Exchange Ratio and Implied Transaction Metrics. Sandler O’Neill reviewed the financial terms of the proposed merger. Subject to certain adjustments and termination provisions, as more fully described in the merger agreement, at the effective time, each share of FNB common stock issued and outstanding prior to the effective time, except for certain shares of FNB common stock as specified in the merger agreement, will be converted into the right to receive 0.6474 shares of GBCI common stock. Based on the closing price of GBCI common stock on January 14, 2019 of $41.66, Sandler O’Neill calculated an implied transaction price per share of FNB common stock of $26.97 and an aggregate implied transaction value of approximately $85.3 million in exchange for all FNB common stock issued and outstanding as of January 14, 2019. Based upon historical financial information for FNB as of or for the period ended September 30, 2018 and internal earnings per share estimates for FNB for the year ending December 31, 2019, as provided by the senior management of FNB, Sandler O’Neill calculated the following implied transaction metrics.

Transaction Price / Last Twelve Months Earnings Per Share of FNB (Taxed) ¹ :	14.2x
Transaction Price / Last Twelve Months Earnings Per Share of FNB (Core, Taxed) ^{1 2} :	18.6x
Transaction Price / 2019 Estimated Earnings Per Share of FNB (Taxed) ²	14.0x
Transaction Price / Tangible Book Value Per Share of FNB	217%
Tangible Book Premium / Core Deposits ³	17.6%
Tangible Book Premium / Core Deposits ⁴	16.9%

Note:

- 1: Assumes a corporate-level tax rate of 23.5%, as directed by FNB management
- 2: Excludes one time gain on sale of facilities of approximately $1.9 million
- 3: Core deposits defined as total deposits less time deposits greater than $100,000
- 4: Core deposits defined as total deposits less time deposits greater than $250,000

FNB Net Present Value Analyses. Sandler O'Neill performed an analysis that estimated the net present value per share of FNB common stock assuming FNB performed in accordance with internal net income projections for FNB for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020 with an annual net income growth rate for the years ending December 31 2021 through December 31, 2022, as provided by the senior management of FNB, as well as estimated dividends per share for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of FNB. To approximate the terminal value of a share of FNB common stock at December 31, 2022, Sandler O'Neill applied price to 2022 earnings per share multiples ranging from 10.00x to 16.67x and price to December 31, 2022 tangible book value per share multiples ranging from 110% to 185%. The terminal values were then discounted to present values using different discount rates ranging from 9.0% to 15.0% which were chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding required rates of return of holders or prospective buyers of FNB common stock. As illustrated in the following tables, the analysis indicated an imputed range of values per share of FNB common stock of $15.68 to $30.29 when applying multiples of earnings per share and $13.33 to $25.65 when applying multiples of tangible book value per share.

Sandler O’Neill also considered and discussed with the FNB board of directors how this analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including variations with respect to projected net income. To illustrate this impact, Sandler O’Neill performed a similar analysis assuming FNB’s net income varied from 15% above projections to 15% below projections. This analysis resulted in the following range of per share values for FNB common stock, applying the price to 2022 earnings per share multiples range of 10.00x to 16.67x referred to above and a discount rate of 12.68%.

Variance to Net Income Projection	Earnings Per Share Multiples

15.0%	$19.11	$21.35	$23.58	$25.81	$28.05	$30.28

Sandler O’Neill noted that the net present value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology, but the results of such methodology are highly dependent upon the numerous assumptions that must be made, and the results thereof are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results.

Analysis of Selected Merger Transactions. Sandler O’Neill reviewed a group of merger and acquisition transactions involving U.S. banks (the “Nationwide Precedent Transactions”). The Nationwide Precedent Transactions group consisted of bank transactions announced between January 1, 2018 and January 14, 2019 with disclosed deal values, target assets at the time of announcement between $200 million and $500 million, and a return on average assets greater than 1.00% for the trailing twelve months prior to announcement.

GBCI Net Present Value Analyses. Sandler O’Neill performed an analysis that estimated the net present value per share of GBCI common stock assuming that GBCI performed in accordance with publicly available consensus analyst earnings per share estimates for GBCI for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020, as well as a long-term earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter and dividend payout ratio for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of GBCI. To approximate the terminal value of a share of GBCI common stock at December 31, 2022, Sandler O’Neill applied price to 2022 earnings per share multiples ranging from 10.0x to 20.0x and price to December 31, 2022 tangible book value per share multiples ranging from 160% to 310%. The terminal values were then discounted to present values using different discount rates ranging from 8.0% to 11.0% which were chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding required rates of return of holders or prospective buyers of GBCI common stock. As illustrated in the following tables, the analysis indicated an imputed range of values per share of GBCI common stock of $23.69 to $48.08 when applying multiples of earnings per share and $24.54 to $48.55 when applying multiples of tangible book value per share.

Sandler O'Neill also considered and discussed with the FNB board of directors how this analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including variations with respect to net income. To illustrate this impact, Sandler O'Neill performed a similar analysis assuming GBCI's net income varied from 15% above estimates to 15% below estimates. This analysis resulted in the following range of per share values for GBCI common stock, applying the price to 2022 earnings per share multiples range of 10.0x to 20.0x referred to above and a discount rate of 8.96%.

Sandler O'Neill noted that the net present value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology, but the results of such methodology are highly dependent upon the numerous assumptions that must be made, and the results thereof are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results.

Pro Forma Merger Analysis. Sandler O'Neill analyzed certain potential pro forma effects of the merger. In performing this analysis, Sandler O'Neill utilized the following information and assumptions: (i) the merger closes on June 30, 2019; (ii) internal net income projections for FNB for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020 with an annual net income growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by the senior management of FNB, as well as estimated dividends per share for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of FNB; (iii) publicly available consensus analyst earnings per share estimates for GBCI for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020, as well as a long-term earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter and dividend payout ratio for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of GBCI; and (iv) certain assumptions relating to purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings and transaction expenses, as provided by the senior management of GBCI. The analysis indicated that the merger could be accretive to GBCI's earnings per share (excluding one-time transaction costs and expenses) at closing, and accretive to GBCI's estimated tangible book at closing.

In connection with this analysis, Sandler O’Neill considered and discussed with the FNB board of directors how the analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including the impact of final purchase accounting adjustments determined at the closing of the transaction, and noted that the actual results achieved by the combined company may vary from projected results and the variations may be material.

Sandler O’Neill’s Relationship. Sandler O’Neill acted as FNB’s financial advisor in connection with the transaction and will receive a fee for its services in an amount equal to 1.25% of the aggregate purchase price, which fee at the time of announcement and based on the GBCI closing stock price on January 14, 2019 was approximately $1.1 million. Sandler O’Neill also received a fee of $100,000 for rendering its opinion, which fairness opinion fee will be credited in full towards the transaction fee becoming due and payable to Sandler O’Neill on the day of closing of the merger. FNB has also agreed to indemnify Sandler O’Neill against certain claims and liabilities arising out of Sandler O’Neill’s engagement. In the two years preceding the date of Sandler O’Neill’s opinion, Sandler O’Neill did not provide any other investment banking services to FNB, nor did Sandler O’Neill provide any investment banking services to GBCI in the two years preceding the date of Sandler O’Neill’s opinion. In the ordinary course of Sandler O’Neill’s business as a broker-dealer, Sandler O’Neill may purchase securities from and sell securities to FNB, GBCI and their respective affiliates. Sandler O’Neill may also actively trade the equity and debt securities of FNB, GBCI and their respective affiliates for Sandler O’Neill’s own account and for the accounts of Sandler O’Neill’s customers.

THE MERGER

The following is a brief description of the material aspects of the merger. There are other aspects of the merger that are not discussed below but that are contained in the merger agreement. You are being asked to approve the merger in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, and you are urged to read the merger agreement carefully. The merger agreement is attached to this proxy statement/prospectus as Appendix A.

Basic Terms of the Merger

The merger agreement provides for the merger of FNB with and into Glacier and, immediately thereafter, the merger of the Bank with and into Glacier Bank, Glacier’s wholly-owned subsidiary. Following the merger, the former branches of the Bank will be combined with Glacier Bank’s four existing Utah branches and operated as a new division of Glacier Bank.

In the merger, FNB shareholders will receive Glacier common stock for their FNB common stock, as described below. See “– Merger Consideration.”

While Glacier and FNB believe that they will receive the necessary regulatory approvals for the merger, there can be no assurance that such approvals will be received or, if received, as to the timing of such approvals or as to the ability to obtain such approvals on satisfactory terms. See “– Conditions to the Merger” and “– Regulatory Requirements.”

Merger Consideration

As of the effective date of the merger, each share of FNB common stock will be converted into the right to receive 0.6474 shares of Glacier common stock, subject to adjustment as follows:

If the average closing price of Glacier common stock calculated in accordance with the merger agreement exceeds $46.63, Glacier may elect to terminate the merger agreement, unless FNB elects to accept a decrease on a per-share basis in the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger. In prior merger transactions with similar adjustment rights, Glacier has exercised its right to terminate the merger agreement, and the seller in such prior merger transactions elected to accept a decrease in the per-share number of shares of Glacier common stock issued in the merger.

Conversely, if the “average closing price” is (i) less than $34.47 and the price of Glacier common stock has underperformed the KBW Regional Banking Index by more than 10% or (ii) less than $32.44, FNB may terminate the merger agreement, unless Glacier elects to increase on a per-share basis the number of shares of Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger, or in Glacier’s discretion, Glacier pays cash, or a combination of cash and additional Glacier shares, so that the value of the consideration received by FNB shareholders equals an amount specified in the merger agreement.

Assuming for purposes of illustration only that the average closing price of Glacier common stock is $41.06 (which was the per-share closing price of Glacier common stock on March 11, 2019), FNB shareholders would receive 0.6474 shares of Glacier common stock for each share of FNB common stock because the average closing price did not exceed $46.63 or fall below $32.44.

The actual Glacier average closing price will not be determined until 10 days prior to the closing of the merger, and it cannot be predicted whether such average closing price will be above or below the collar range of between $46.63 and $32.44.

Possible Special Dividend

If the FNB Closing Capital exceeds $39,258,000, FNB may, upon written notice to Glacier and effective immediately prior to the closing of the merger, declare and pay a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount of such excess.

“FNB Closing Capital” is defined in the merger agreement and is equal to an amount, estimated as of the closing date of the merger, equal to FNB’s capital stock, surplus and retained earnings determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (“GAAP”) on a consolidated basis, net of goodwill and other intangible assets, calculated in the same manner in which FNB’s consolidated tangible equity capital at December 31, 2017 and September 30, 2018 was calculated, after giving effect to adjustments, in accordance with GAAP, for accumulated other comprehensive income or loss as reported on FNB’s or the Bank’s balance sheet.

The FNB Closing Capital may be reduced based on the estimated final amount of transaction-related expenses to be incurred by FNB, as determined and agreed upon between FNB and Glacier in accordance with the merger agreement (the “Final Transaction-Related Expenses”). To the extent the Final Transaction-Related Expenses exceed $6,000,000, the amount of such excess, on an after-tax basis, will be reflected as a pro-forma adjustment to the FNB Closing Capital, reducing the amount of the FNB Closing Capital.

Fractional Shares

No fractional shares of Glacier common stock will be issued to any holder of FNB common stock in the merger. For each fractional share that would otherwise be issued, Glacier will pay cash in an amount equal to the fraction multiplied by the Glacier average closing price calculated as provided in the merger agreement. No interest will be paid or accrued on cash payable in lieu of fractional shares of Glacier common stock.

Table of Contents

Effective Date of the Merger

Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of conditions to the obligations of the parties to complete the merger as set forth in the merger agreement, the effective date of the merger will be the date the merger becomes effective under the Montana Business Corporation Act and the Utah Revised Business Corporations Act. Subject to the foregoing and the possible adjustment of the closing date as discussed under “—Closing Date” below, it is currently anticipated that the merger will be consummated during the second quarter of 2019.

Letter of Transmittal

Promptly following the effective date of the merger, Glacier’s exchange agent will send a letter of transmittal to each holder of record of FNB common stock. This mailing will contain instructions on how to surrender FNB common stock certificates or other evidence of ownership in exchange for the merger consideration that the holder is entitled to receive under the merger agreement.

With the exception of any proposed dissenting shares, each FNB stock certificate will, from and after the effective date of the merger, be deemed to represent and evidence only the right to receive the merger consideration payable with respect to such certificate. FNB shareholders must provide properly completed and executed letters of transmittal in order to effect the exchange of their shares of FNB common stock for (i) evidence of issuance in book entry form, or upon the request of the holder, stock certificates, representing Glacier common stock, (ii) a check in the event that Glacier elects to pay cash consideration under the circumstances described under “— Termination of the Merger Agreement” below, and/or (iii) a check representing the amount of cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any.

Lost, Stolen or Destroyed Certificates

If a certificate for FNB common stock has been lost, stolen or destroyed, the exchange agent will be authorized to issue or pay the holder’s merger consideration, if the holder provides Glacier with (i) satisfactory evidence that the holder owns the FNB common stock and that the certificate is lost, stolen or destroyed, (ii) any affidavit or security Glacier may require (including any bond that may be required by the exchange agent in accordance with its policies), and (iii) any reasonable additional assurances that Glacier or Glacier’s exchange agent may require, which may include indemnification of Glacier if the lost, stolen or destroyed certificates are subsequently presented.

Voting Agreement

FNB’s directors and executive officers have entered into a voting agreement, dated as of January 16, 2019. In the voting agreement, each person agrees, among other things, to vote the shares of FNB common stock that he or she is entitled to vote and that he or she owns or controls in favor of the merger agreement. As of the date hereof, the persons who have entered into the voting agreement are entitled to vote a total of 1,357,605 shares of FNB common stock, representing approximately 42.95% of all outstanding shares of FNB common stock.

Dissenters’ Rights

Under Utah law, FNB shareholders have the right to dissent from the merger and to receive payment in cash for the “fair value” of their shares of FNB common stock.

FNB shareholders electing to exercise dissenters’ rights must comply with the provisions of the URBCA in order to perfect their rights. The following is intended as a brief summary of the material provisions of the procedures that an FNB shareholder must follow in order to dissent from the merger and perfect dissenters' rights. This summary, however, is not a complete statement of all applicable requirements and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the URBCA, the full text of which is set forth in Appendix B to this document.

A shareholder who wishes to assert dissenters' rights must:

- before FNB shareholders vote on the merger agreement, deliver to FNB written notice of the shareholder's intent to demand payment for the shareholder's shares if the merger is completed, and
- not vote any of such shareholder's shares in favor of the merger.

A shareholder wishing to deliver a notice asserting dissenters' rights should hand-deliver or mail the notice to the following address:

FNB Bancorp
12 S. Main
Layton, Utah 84041
ATTN: Shelly Holt, Secretary

A shareholder who wishes to exercise dissenters' rights generally must dissent with respect to all of the shares the shareholder owns. However, if a record shareholder is a nominee for several beneficial shareholders, some of whom wish to dissent and some of whom do not, then the record holder may dissent with respect to all the shares beneficially owned by any one person by notifying FNB in writing of the name and address of each person on whose behalf the record shareholder asserts dissenters' rights. A beneficial shareholder may assert dissenters' rights directly by submitting to FNB the record shareholder's written consent to the dissent and by dissenting with respect to all the shares of which the shareholder is the beneficial shareholder.

A shareholder who does not, prior to the FNB shareholder vote on the merger agreement, deliver to FNB a written notice of the shareholder's intent to demand payment for the "fair value" of the shares will lose the right to exercise dissenters' rights. In addition, any shareholder electing to exercise dissenters' rights must either vote against the merger or abstain from voting.

If the merger is completed, Glacier (as the surviving corporation) will, within 10 days after the effective date of the merger, deliver a written notice to all FNB shareholders who properly gave notice of their intent to exercise dissenters' rights. The notice will, among other things:

- state an address at which Glacier will receive payment demands and an address at which certificates shall be deposited;
- supply a form for demanding payment;
- set a date by which Glacier must receive the payment demand and by which certificates must be deposited at the address indicated in the dissenters' notice, which dates will be between 30 and 70 days after the notice is delivered;
- provide a copy of the dissenters' rights provisions of the URBCA, Title 16, Part 13, Sections 1301 through 1331.

A shareholder wishing to exercise dissenters' rights must at that time file the payment demand and deliver share certificates as required in the notice. Failure to do so will cause that shareholder to lose his or her dissenters' rights.

A shareholder who has complied with the requirements summarized in the previous paragraph may nevertheless decline to exercise dissenters' rights and withdraw from the appraisal process by notifying Glacier by the date set forth in the written notice provided by Glacier following consummation of the merger. If the shareholder does not withdraw from the appraisal process by the specified date, he or she may not do so thereafter unless Glacier consents to such withdrawal in writing.

Upon completion of the merger or receipt of the payment demand, whichever is later, Glacier will pay each dissenter with properly perfected dissenters' rights Glacier's estimate of the "fair value" of the shareholder's shares, plus accrued interest from the effective date of the merger. The payment will be accompanied by specified financial information as required by the URBCA and a statement as to Glacier's estimate of the fair value of the shares and the interest payable with respect to the shares.

With respect to a dissenter who did not beneficially own shares of FNB prior to the public announcement of the merger, Glacier is not required to make the payment until the dissenter has agreed to accept the payment in full satisfaction of the dissenter's demands.

"Fair value" is defined in the URBCA as the value of the FNB shares immediately before the effective date of the merger, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in anticipation of the merger. The "fair value" may be less than, equal to or greater than the value of the consideration that an FNB shareholder would be entitled to receive under the merger agreement. The rate of interest will be the rate of interest provided under applicable law.

Within 30 days of Glacier's payment (or offer of payment in the case of shares acquired after public announcement of the merger) to a dissenting shareholder, a dissenter dissatisfied with Glacier's estimate of the fair value of the shares may notify Glacier of the dissenter's own estimate of the fair value and demand payment of that amount. If Glacier does not accept the dissenter's estimate and the parties do not otherwise settle on a fair value, then Glacier must, within 60 days of receiving the estimate and demand, petition a court to determine the fair value.

In view of the complexity of the Utah statutes governing dissenters' rights, FNB shareholders who wish to dissent from the merger and pursue dissenters' rights should consult their legal advisors.

The failure of an FNB shareholder to comply strictly with the Utah statutory requirements will result in a loss of dissenters' rights. A copy of the relevant statutory provisions is attached as Appendix B. You should refer to Appendix B for a complete statement concerning dissenters' rights and the foregoing summary of such rights is qualified in its entirety by reference to Appendix B.

Conditions to the Merger

Consummation of the merger is subject to various conditions. No assurance can be provided as to whether these conditions will be satisfied or waived by the appropriate party. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the merger will be completed.

Table of Contents

Certain conditions must be satisfied or events must occur before the parties will be obligated to complete the merger. Each party's obligations under the merger agreement are conditioned on satisfaction by the other party of conditions applicable to them. Some of these conditions, applicable to the respective obligations of both Glacier and FNB, are as follows:

- the accuracy of the other party's representations and warranties in the merger agreement and any certificate or other instrument delivered in connection with the merger agreement;
- material compliance by the other party of all terms, covenants, and conditions of the merger agreement;
- that there shall have been no material damage, destruction, or loss, or other event, individually or in the aggregate, constituting a Material Adverse Effect (as defined in the merger agreement) with respect to the other party or the commencement of any proceeding against the other party that, individually or in the aggregate, is reasonably expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to such party;
- that no action or proceeding has been commenced or threatened by any governmental agency to restrain or prohibit or invalidate the merger;
- the parties shall have agreed on the amount of the FNB Closing Capital and Final Transaction Related Expenses, each as defined in the merger agreement; and
- the registration statement filed with the SEC, required to register the Glacier common stock to be issued to shareholders of FNB, has become effective, and no stop-order suspending such effectiveness has been issued or remains in effect and no proceedings for that purpose have been initiated or threatened by the SEC.

In addition to the above, the obligations of Glacier under the merger agreement are subject to conditions that:

- Glacier shall have obtained from legal counsel, and delivered to FNB, an opinion addressed to FNB and Glacier (subject to reasonable limitations, conditions and assumptions) to the effect that each of the merger of FNB with and into Glacier and the merger of the Bank with and into Glacier Bank will be a reorganization within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code Section 368(a); and
- Proposed dissenting shares to the merger must not represent more than 10% of FNB's outstanding common stock.

Additionally, either Glacier or FNB may terminate the merger if certain conditions applicable to the other party are not satisfied or waived. Those conditions are discussed below under "–Termination of the Merger Agreement."

Either Glacier or FNB may waive any conditions applicable to its obligations, except those that are required by law (such as receipt of regulatory approvals and FNB shareholder approval). Either Glacier or FNB may also grant extended time to the other party to complete an obligation or condition.

Amendment of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement may be amended upon authorization of the boards of directors of the parties, whether before or after the special meeting of the shareholders of FNB. To the extent permitted under applicable law, the parties may make any amendment or supplement without further approval of FNB shareholders. However, after FNB shareholder approval, any amendment that would change the form or reduce the amount of consideration that FNB shareholders will receive in the merger would require further approval from FNB shareholders.

Table of Contents

Termination of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement contains several provisions entitling either Glacier or FNB to terminate the merger agreement under certain circumstances. The following briefly describes these provisions:

Lapse of Time. If the merger has not been consummated on or before September 30, 2019, then at any time after that date, either Glacier or FNB may terminate the merger agreement and the merger if (i) the terminating party's board of directors decides to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members, and (ii) the terminating party delivers to the other party written notice that its board of directors has voted in favor of termination. However, if as of September 30, 2019, all required regulatory approvals have not been obtained, then the deadline for consummation of the merger will be extended to on or before November 30, 2019, if Glacier notifies FNB in writing on or prior to September 30, 2019 of its election to extend such date.

Glacier Average Closing Price Greater than $46.63. By specific action of its board of directors, Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if the Glacier average closing price (as defined in the merger agreement) is greater than $46.63.

If Glacier provides written notice of its intent to terminate the merger agreement because the Glacier average closing price is greater than $46.63, FNB may elect, within three business days of its receipt of such notice, to accept a decrease in the total number of Glacier shares that will be issued in the merger. In such event, the total number of Glacier shares issued in the merger will be equal to the quotient obtained by dividing (a) the product of (i) the value of "Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares" multiplied by (ii) $46.63 by (b) the Glacier average closing price rounded up to the nearest whole share.

"Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares" is defined in the merger agreement as 2,046,411 Glacier shares, minus any adjustment in the number of shares to be issued by Glacier resulting from the FNB Closing Capital being less than the amount required under the merger agreement ($39,285,000).

If FNB makes the election to accept such decrease in the number of Glacier shares to be issued, no termination of the merger agreement will occur, and the merger agreement will remain in effect in accordance with its terms, except that the total number of Glacier shares to be issued in the merger would decrease. As a result, the amount of Glacier common stock exchanged for each share of FNB common stock would decrease. In prior merger transactions with similar adjustment rights, Glacier has exercised its right to terminate the merger agreement, and the seller in such prior merger transactions elected to accept a decrease in the number of Glacier shares issued in the merger.

Glacier Average Closing Price Less than $34.47. FNB may provide written notice to Glacier of its intent to terminate the merger agreement because the Glacier average closing price is (a)(i) less than $34.47 and (ii) the price of Glacier common stock, during a period defined in the merger agreement, underperformed the KBW Regional Banking Index by more than ten percentage points, or (b) less than $32.44.

If FNB has provided notice of its intent to terminate the merger agreement because the Glacier average closing price is below $34.47 and the price of Glacier common stock has underperformed the KBW Regional Banking Index by more than ten percentage points, Glacier may elect, within three business days of its receipt of such notice, to increase the number of Glacier shares to be issued in the merger, or in Glacier's sole discretion, pay cash consideration, or a combination of additional Glacier shares and cash, such that the total value of the Glacier shares to be issued (based on the Glacier average closing price rounded up to the nearest whole share) plus any cash consideration is equal to the product of (i) the value of the Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares multiplied by (ii) $34.47.

If FNB has provided notice of its intent to terminate the merger agreement because the Glacier average closing price is below $32.44, then Glacier may elect, within three business days of its receipt of such notice, to increase the number of Glacier shares to be issued in the merger, or in Glacier's sole discretion, pay cash consideration, or a combination of additional Glacier shares and cash, such that the total value of the Glacier shares to be issued (based on the Glacier average closing price rounded up to the nearest whole share) plus any cash consideration is equal to the product of (i) the value of the Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares multiplied by (ii) $32.44.

If Glacier elects to increase the total number of shares issuable in the merger or pay cash consideration (or a combination of additional shares and cash, as described above), no termination of the merger agreement will occur, and the merger agreement will remain in effect in accordance with its terms, except as the consideration has been adjusted.

Mutual Consent. The parties may terminate the merger agreement at any time before closing, whether before or after approval by FNB shareholders, by mutual consent if the board of directors of each party agrees to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members.

No Regulatory Approvals. Either party may terminate the merger agreement if the regulatory approvals required to be obtained are denied, or if any such approval is conditioned on a substantial deviation from the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, subject to certain rights granted in the merger agreement to appeal the denial of such regulatory approval.

Breach of Representation or Covenant. Either party may terminate the merger agreement (so long as the terminating party is not then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements in the merger agreement) if there has been a material breach of any of the representations, warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in the merger agreement by the other party, which is not cured within 30 days following written notice to the party committing such breach, or which breach, by its nature, cannot be cured prior to the closing of the merger.

Failure to Recommend or Obtain Shareholder Approval. Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if the FNB Board (i) fails to recommend to its shareholders approval of the merger, or (ii) modifies, withdraws or changes in a manner adverse to Glacier its recommendation to shareholders to approve the merger. Additionally, regardless of whether or not the FNB Board recommends approval of the merger to its shareholders, Glacier or FNB may terminate the merger agreement if FNB shareholders elect not to approve the merger.

Dissenting Shares. Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if holders of 10% or more of the outstanding FNB shares have properly given notice of their intent to assert dissenters' rights under Utah law.

Superior Proposal – Termination by FNB. FNB may terminate the merger agreement if its board of directors determines in good faith that FNB has received a "Superior Proposal" (as defined in the merger agreement). This right is subject to the requirement that FNB may terminate the merger agreement only if FNB (i) has not breached its covenants regarding the initiation or solicitation of acquisition proposals from third parties and submission of the merger agreement to FNB shareholders; (ii) immediately following the delivery of such notice of termination to Glacier, FNB enters into a definitive acquisition agreement relating to such Superior Proposal, (iii) FNB has provided Glacier with at least five days' prior written notice that the FNB Board is prepared to accept a Superior Proposal and has given Glacier, if it so elects, an opportunity to amend the terms of the merger agreement (and negotiated with Glacier in good faith with respect to such terms) in such a manner as would enable the FNB Board to proceed with the merger and (iv) simultaneously upon entering into such definitive acquisition agreement relating to the Superior Proposal, it delivers to Glacier the break-up fee described below.

Table of Contents

Superior Proposal – Termination by Glacier. Glacier may terminate the merger agreement if an “Acquisition Event” (as defined in the merger agreement) has occurred.

Break-Up Fee

If the merger agreement is terminated because (i) the FNB Board fails to recommend shareholder approval of the merger agreement or modifies, or withdraws or changes its recommendation in a manner adverse to Glacier; or (ii) FNB terminates the merger agreement after receiving a Superior Proposal and Glacier declines the opportunity to amend the terms of the merger agreement to enable the FNB Board to proceed with the merger; or (iii) Glacier terminates the merger agreement if an Acquisition Event has occurred, then FNB will immediately pay Glacier a break-up fee of $3,200,000.

In addition, if the merger agreement is terminated (i) by Glacier for FNB’s breach of certain covenants set forth in the merger agreement or (ii) by either Glacier or FNB due to the merger agreement not being approved by the FNB shareholders, and within 18 months after any such termination, FNB or the Bank enters into an agreement for, or publicly announces its intention to engage in, an Acquisition Event, or an Acquisition Event occurs, then FNB will promptly following such entry, announcement, or occurrence pay Glacier the break-up fee of $3,200,000.

Allocation of Costs Upon Termination

If the merger agreement is terminated (except under circumstances that would require the payment of a break-up fee) Glacier and FNB will each pay their own out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the transaction.

Conduct Pending the Merger

The merger agreement provides that, until the merger is effective, FNB will conduct its business only in the ordinary and usual course. The merger agreement also provides that, unless Glacier otherwise consents in writing, and except as required by applicable regulatory authorities, FNB and the Bank will refrain from engaging in the following activities:

- issuing, selling or otherwise permitting to become outstanding, or disposing of, encumbering or pledging, or authorizing or proposing the creation of, any additional shares of FNB securities or Bank securities;
- with specified exceptions, adjusting, splitting, combining, redeeming, reclassifying, purchasing, or otherwise acquiring any shares of FNB stock or Bank stock;
- other than as permitted by the merger agreement or as otherwise consistent with past practices, declaring or paying any dividends, or making any other distribution with respect to shares of FNB;
- acquiring, selling, transferring, assigning, encumbering or otherwise disposing of any material assets having a value greater than $100,000, or making any material commitment other than in the ordinary and usual course of business;
- soliciting or accepting deposit accounts of a different type from accounts previously accepted by the Bank or at rates materially in excess of prevailing interest rates, or, other than as permitted by the merger agreement, incurring or increasing any indebtedness for borrowed money;

Table of Contents

- offering or making loans or other extensions of credit of a different type, or applying different underwriting standards, from those previously offered or applied by the Bank, or offering or making a new loan or extension of credit (other than with respect to commitments existing as of the date of execution of the merger agreement) in an amount greater than $500,000 without prior consultation with Glacier;
- making any negative provisions to the Bank's ALLL or failing to maintain an adequate reserve for loan and lease losses;
- other than as permitted by the merger agreement, acquiring an ownership interest (except other real estate owned or other ownership interest acquired through foreclosure with a value not exceeding $400,000) or leasehold interest in any real property and in the case of any acquisition of an ownership interest, acquiring such ownership interest without conducting an appropriate environmental evaluation and providing such evaluation to Glacier at least 30 days in advance of such acquisition;
- other than as permitted by the merger agreement, entering into, amending, renewing, or terminating any contracts calling for a payment of more than $50,000;
- selling any securities other than in the ordinary course of business, or selling any securities even in the ordinary course of business if the aggregate gain or loss realized from all sales after the date of execution of the merger agreement would exceed $75,000, or transferring any investment securities between portfolios available for sale and portfolios of securities to be held to maturity;
- amending its articles of incorporation, bylaws, or other formation agreements, or converting its charter or form of entity;
- other than as permitted by the merger agreement, implementing or adopting any material changes in its operations, policies or procedures;
- other than as permitted by the merger agreement, implementing or adopting any change in its accounting principles, practices, or methods;
- other than in accordance with binding commitments existing on the date of execution of the merger agreement, making any capital expenditures in excess of $50,000 per project or series of related projects or $100,000 in the aggregate;
- entering into any other material transaction or making any material expenditure other than in the ordinary and usual course of its business except for expenses reasonably related to the completion of the merger; and
- taking any action which would materially and adversely affect or delay the ability of either party to obtain any necessary approvals, consents or waivers of any governmental authority required for the merger or for either party to perform in all material respects their respective covenants and agreements under the merger agreement.

Bank Management and Operations After the Merger

Immediately following the merger of the Bank with and into Glacier, the Bank will be merged with and into Glacier Bank. It is anticipated that the former branches of the Bank will be combined with Glacier Bank's existing four Utah branches and will operate as a new division of Glacier Bank (the "Division").

Table of Contents

As described below under “Interests of FNB Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger,” certain executive officers of the Bank have entered into employment agreements with Glacier and Glacier Bank, effective upon closing of the merger, pursuant to which they will serve as executive officers of the Division.

Employee Benefit Plans

The merger agreement confirms Glacier’s intent that Glacier’s and Glacier Bank’s current personnel policies will apply to any employees of the Bank who remain employed following the closing of the merger. Such employees will be eligible to participate in all of the benefit plans of Glacier that are generally available to similarly situated employees of Glacier and/or Glacier Bank. Current employees’ prior service with FNB and/or the Bank will constitute prior service with Glacier for purposes of determining eligibility and vesting under benefit plans of Glacier and Glacier Bank.

Interests of FNB Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

Certain members of the FNB and/or Bank Board and executive management may be deemed to have interests in the merger, in addition to their interests as shareholders of FNB generally. The FNB Board was aware of these factors and considered them, among other things, in approving the merger agreement.

Employment Agreements with Glacier Bank

K. John Jones

Glacier Bank has entered into an employment agreement with K. John Jones, currently President and Chief Executive Officer of the Bank, governing employment by Glacier Bank following the merger. Mr. Jones will serve as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Division. The employment agreement is effective on (and conditioned upon) the closing of the merger and continues until December 31, 2020. The employment agreement provides for an annualized base salary of $272,000, subject to increase in the discretion of Glacier Bank’s or Glacier’s board of directors based on performance and additional duties and responsibilities, if any. Mr. Jones will be eligible to participate in Glacier’s profit sharing plan and Glacier’s Long-Term Incentive Plan. Additionally, Mr. Jones will be entitled to participate in any group life insurance, disability, health and accident insurance plans, and any other employee fringe benefit plans that Glacier or Glacier Bank may have in effect from time to time for its similarly situated employees. Mr. Jones will be entitled to the use of an automobile currently used by him in the course and scope of his employment, and at the end of the term of the agreement or upon any termination of employment except by Glacier Bank for Cause or by Mr. Jones without Good Reason (as such terms are defined in the agreement) title of the automobile will transfer to Mr. Jones.

If Mr. Jones’ employment is terminated for Cause or he terminates his employment without Good Reason, Glacier Bank will pay him the annualized base salary earned and expenses reimbursable incurred through the date of termination.

If Mr. Jones’ employment is terminated without Cause or he terminates his employment for Good Reason, contingent upon his execution of a release of claims, Glacier Bank will pay Mr. Jones a lump sum severance payment in an amount equal to the amount of annualized base salary remaining to be paid during the term of the agreement.

The employment agreement provides that during Mr. Jones’ employment and for a period of one year after termination of employment, Mr. Jones will not provide the same or similar services as he performed on behalf of Glacier Bank at any time during the last 12 months of his employment with Glacier Bank to any person or entity engaged in any competing business within specified counties in Utah.

Table of Contents

The employment agreement provides that during his employment and for a period of two years following any termination of employment, Mr. Jones will not solicit, recruit persuade or entice, or attempt to solicit, recruit entice, any employee of Glacier or Glacier Bank to terminate his or her employment with Glacier or Glacier Bank, or any person or entity to terminate, cancel, rescind or revoke its business or contractual relationships with Glacier or Glacier Bank. Additionally, during his employment and for a period of two years following termination of employment, Mr. Jones will not solicit or attempt to solicit, divert, or take away from Glacier Bank or Glacier any person or entity that is a current customer of Glacier Bank or Glacier and to whom Mr. Jones, directly or indirectly, provided services, contracted with, or solicited business on behalf of Glacier Bank or Glacier within 12 months prior to the termination of Mr. Jones' employment.

Shelly Holt, Nicolas Bement and Jason Robinson

Glacier Bank has also entered into employment agreements with Shelly Holt, Executive Vice President and Chief Operations Officer of the Bank; Nicolas Bement, Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of the Bank; and Jason Robinson, Senior Vice President of the Bank (the "Executives"). Except as described below, the terms of the employment agreements with the Executives are substantially identical to each other and are substantially identical to the employment agreement of Mr. Jones as described above.

Ms. Holt will serve as Executive Vice President and Chief Operations Officer of the Division; Mr. Bement will serve as Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of the Division; and Mr. Robinson will serve as Executive Vice President and Chief Lending Officer of the Division. The terms of the agreements are for two years from the effective date of the merger.

The employment agreements provide for an annualized base salary of $177,000 for Ms. Holt, $177,000 for Mr. Bement, and $165,000 for Mr. Robinson. The Executives will be eligible to participate in Glacier's profit sharing plan, the Division annual cash bonus program, and Glacier's Long-Term Incentive Plan.

The employment agreements with the Executives contain the same restrictions on solicitation of employee and customers described above with respect to Mr. Jones' employment agreement, but do not contain provisions regarding non-competition with the business of Glacier Bank.

Change-in-Control Agreements

FNB has previously entered into Change in Control Compensation Agreements ("CIC Agreements"), each dated May 31, 2018, with Mr. Jones, Mr. Bement and Ms. Holt. In order to satisfy payment obligations to each executive under the CIC Agreements in the event of a Change in Control of FNB (as defined in the CIC Agreement), Glacier Bank has agreed to pay, and each executive has respectively agreed to accept, a payment in the amount of $724,161 to Mr. Jones, $529,122 to Mr. Bement, and $523,009 to Ms. Holt. Each payment will be made in a lump sum on the first regular payroll period following the 55th day after the effective date of the merger.

Table of Contents

Stock Ownership

As of the record date of the special meeting, FNB directors, executive officers and their spouses beneficially own 1,357,605 shares of FNB common stock. The directors and executive officers of FNB will receive the same consideration in the merger for their shares as will other shareholders of FNB.

Division Advisory Board

The merger agreement provides that promptly after the closing of the merger, Glacier Bank will establish an advisory board for the Division, to be comprised initially of three or more persons who had served on the board of directors of the Bank as of the closing of the merger. The advisory board will operate in manner consistent with boards of Glacier Bank's other divisions, and will advise and support Glacier Bank regarding the Division and its market area, deposit retention, lending activities and customer relationships.

Indemnification of Directors and Officers; Insurance

The merger agreement provides that Glacier will, for a period of six years following the closing of the merger, indemnify the present and former directors and officers of FNB and the Bank against liabilities or costs that may arise in the future, incurred in connection with claims or actions arising out of or pertaining to matters that existed or occurred prior to the effective date of the merger. The scope of this indemnification is to the fullest extent that such persons would have been entitled to indemnification under applicable law, FNB's articles or the Bank's articles or FNB's bylaws or the Bank's bylaws, as applicable.

The merger agreement also provides that Glacier will use commercially reasonable efforts to cause to be maintained in effect for a period of six years following the effective date of the merger, director and officer liability insurance with respect to claims arising from facts or events that occurred before the effective date of the merger. Prior to the effective date of the merger and in lieu of the foregoing, Glacier agrees to use commercially reasonable efforts to purchase, with FNB's cooperation, a policy providing substantially such coverage and fully pay for such policy prior to the effective date of the merger.

Additional Agreements

Voting Agreement

As described above under "—Voting Agreement," the directors and executive officers of FNB and have entered into a voting agreement, dated as of January 16, 2019. Pursuant to the voting agreements, each signing person agrees to vote the shares of FNB common stock that he or she is entitled to vote and that he or she owns or controls in favor of the merger.

FNB Director Non-Competition Agreement

Each member of the FNB Board has entered into a non-competition agreement with Glacier, Glacier Bank, FNB and the Bank. Except under certain limited circumstances, the non-competition agreement generally prohibits such directors from becoming involved in any substantial way in a business that competes with Glacier or any of Glacier's subsidiaries, divisions or affiliates within specified counties in Utah. The agreement also prohibits the solicitation of Glacier's employees or customers. The term of the non-competition agreement commences upon the effective date of the merger and continues until two years following the later of (i) effective date of the merger, or (ii) if applicable, one year after the termination of the director's service on the advisory board of directors of the Division.

Regulatory Requirements

Closing of the merger is subject to approval or waiver by the appropriate banking regulatory authorities, including the Federal Reserve, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and the Commissioner of the Montana Division of Banking and Financial Institutions.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger

This section generally describes the anticipated material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger of FNB with and into Glacier, to U.S. holders (as defined below) of FNB common stock who exchange shares of FNB common stock for shares of Glacier common stock pursuant to the merger. The summary is based on the Internal Revenue Code, applicable Treasury Regulations, judicial decisions and administrative rulings and practice, all in effect as of the date hereof, and all of which are subject to change, possibly with retroactive effect. The summary does not address any tax consequences of the merger under state, local or foreign laws, or any federal laws other than those pertaining to income tax.

For purposes of this discussion, a “U.S. holder” is a beneficial owner of FNB common stock who for U.S. federal income tax purposes is:

- an individual citizen or resident of the United States;
- a corporation, or an entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes, created or organized in or under the laws of the United States or any state or political subdivision thereof;
- a trust that (1) is subject to (A) the primary supervision of a court within the United States and (B) the control of one or more U.S. persons or (2) has a valid election in effect under applicable Treasury Regulations to be treated as a U.S. person for U.S. federal income tax purposes; or
- an estate that is subject to U.S. federal income tax on its income regardless of its source.

If a partnership (including for this purpose any entity treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) holds FNB common stock, the tax treatment of a partner generally will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. If you are a partner of a partnership holding FNB common stock, you should consult your tax advisor about the consequences of the merger to you.

This discussion addresses only those FNB shareholders that hold their FNB common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Internal Revenue Code, and does not address all the U.S. federal income tax consequences that may be relevant to particular FNB shareholders in light of their individual circumstances or to FNB shareholders that are subject to special rules, including, without limitation:

- banks and other financial institutions;
- pass-through entities or investors in pass-through entities;
- persons who are subject to alternative minimum tax;
- insurance companies;

In addition, the discussion does not address any alternative minimum tax or any state, local or non-U.S. tax consequences of the merger.

It is a condition to the respective obligations of Glacier and FNB to complete the merger that Glacier will have obtained from Miller Nash Graham & Dunn LLP, tax counsel to Glacier, an opinion addressed to Glacier and FNB, to the effect that the merger will for U.S. federal income tax purposes qualify as a "reorganization" within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code Section 368(a). The opinion will assume that the merger will be completed according to the terms of the merger agreement and that the parties will report the transaction in a manner consistent with the opinion. The opinion will rely on the facts as stated in the merger agreement, the Registration Statement on Form S-4 (of which this proxy statement/prospectus is a part) and certain other documents. The opinion will be based on facts and representations contained in representation letters provided by Glacier and FNB to be delivered at the time of closing and based on customary factual assumptions. If any such assumption is or becomes inaccurate, the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger could be adversely affected. The opinion will be based on statutory, regulatory and judicial authority existing as of the date of the opinion, any if which may be changed at any time with retroactive effect. An opinion of counsel represent such counsel's best legal judgement, but the opinion is not binding on the Internal Revenue Service or the courts. Neither Glacier nor FNB has requested and neither intends to request any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger. Consequently, no assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service will not assert, or that a court will not sustain, a position contrary to any of the tax consequences described below or any of the tax consequences described in the opinion. Accordingly, each FNB shareholder should consult his or her tax advisor with respect to the particular tax consequences of the merger to such holder.

Tax Consequences of the Merger Generally to Holders of FNB Common Stock. If the merger of FNB with and into Glacier is a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, the tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders of FNB common stock are as follows (except with respect to any cash received instead of fractional share interests in Glacier common stock, as discussed in the section entitled “Cash Received Instead of a Fractional Share of Glacier Common Stock”):

- If an FNB shareholder exchanges all of his, her or its FNB common stock for Glacier common stock in the merger, such shareholder will recognize no gain (or loss) on the exchange;
- If an FNB shareholder receives a combination of Glacier common stock and cash, such shareholder will recognize gain (but not loss) in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of the Glacier common stock and cash received by the holder of FNB common stock exceeds such holder’s cost basis in its FNB common stock, and (2) the amount of cash received by such holder of FNB common stock in exchange for such holder’s FNB common stock;
- An FNB shareholder’s aggregate tax basis in the Glacier common stock received in the merger will be equal to the shareholder’s aggregate tax basis in such shareholder’s FNB common stock surrendered, decreased by the amount of any cash received (if any) and increased by the amount of any gain recognized (if any); and
- The holding period of Glacier common stock received in an exchange for shares of FNB common stock will include the holding period of the FNB common stock for which it is exchanged.

If a U.S. holder of FNB common stock acquired different blocks of FNB common stock at different times or at different prices, any gain or loss will be determined separately with respect to each block of FNB common stock and such holder’s basis and holding period in his, her or its shares of Glacier common stock may be determined with reference to each block of FNB common stock. Any such holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the manner in which cash and Glacier common stock received in the exchange should be allocated among different blocks of FNB common stock and with respect to identifying the bases or holding periods of the particular shares of Glacier common stock received in the merger.

Gain that a U.S. holder of FNB common stock recognizes in connection with the merger generally will constitute capital gain and will constitute long-term capital gain if such holder has held (or is treated as having held) his, her or its FNB common stock for more than one year as of the date of the merger. Long-term capital gain of non-corporate holders of FNB common stock is generally taxed at preferential rates. In addition, such gain recognized by individuals, trusts and estates may also be subject to the 3.8% Unearned Income Medicare Contribution Tax on net investment income. Holders of FNB common stock that are individuals, estates, or trusts should consult their tax advisors regarding the applicability of the 3.8% Unearned Income Medicare Contribution Tax to the disposition of their shares pursuant to the merger. In some cases, if a holder actually or constructively owns Glacier stock other than Glacier stock received pursuant to the merger, the recognized gain could be treated as having the effect of a distribution of a dividend under the tests set forth in Internal Revenue Code Section 302, in which case such gain would be treated as dividend income. A dividend from Glacier would generally be treated as a “qualified dividend” and, as such, taxed at the same rates applicable to long-term capital gains so long as the requisite holding period is met. Because the possibility of dividend treatment depends primarily upon each holder’s particular circumstances, including the application of the constructive ownership rules, holders of FNB common stock should consult their tax advisors regarding the application of the foregoing rules to their particular circumstances.

Cash Received Instead of a Fractional Share of Glacier Common Stock. A holder of FNB common stock who receives cash instead of a fractional share of Glacier common stock will generally be treated as having received the fractional share pursuant to the merger and then as having that fractional share of Glacier common stock redeemed for cash. The deemed redemption will generally be treated as a sale or exchange and, as a result, a holder of FNB common stock will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received in lieu of the fractional share and the basis in his, her or its fractional share interest as set forth above. Except as described above, this gain or loss will generally be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the merger, the holding period for such shares is greater than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Payment of Dividend. If FNB's capital prior to closing of the merger is in excess of a specified minimum amount, FNB may in its discretion declare and pay a special distribution to holders of its common stock in the amount of such excess. FNB intends to treat that special distribution as a distribution in respect of FNB common stock. The Internal Revenue Service may take a contrary position, and to the extent the Internal Revenue Service were to prevail, the amount paid as the special cash dividend would be treated as additional cash received in connection with the merger, and not as a distribution as described in the succeeding sentence. If the distribution is treated as a distribution with respect to FNB common stock, it will be taxable to the extent it exceeds such holder's basis in his, her or its shares of FNB common stock. Any amount that exceeds such holder's basis in his, her or its FNB common stock will be treated as gain from the sale or exchange of property (which will generally be capital gain, and will be long-term capital gain if, as of the date of the distribution, the holding period for the shares is greater than one year) and will reduce the holder's basis in his, her or its FNB common stock.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting. Payments of cash made to a holder of FNB common stock may, under certain circumstances, be subject to information reporting and backup withholding at a current rate of 24%, unless the holder provides proof of an applicable exemption satisfactory to Glacier and the exchange agent or furnishes its taxpayer identification number, and otherwise complies with all applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. Any amounts withheld from cash payments made to a holder of FNB common stock under the backup withholding rules are not additional tax and will be allowed as a refund or credit against the holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, provided the required information is furnished to the Internal Revenue Service.

The preceding discussion is intended only as a summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to U.S. holders of FNB common stock. It is not a complete analysis or discussion of all potential tax effects that may be important to you. Thus, you are strongly encouraged to consult your tax advisor as to the specific tax consequences resulting from the merger, including tax return reporting requirements, the applicability and effect of U.S. federal, state, local, and other tax laws and the effect of any proposed changes in the tax laws.

Accounting Treatment of the Merger

The acquisition of FNB will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting by Glacier under accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Accordingly, using the acquisition method of accounting, the assets and liabilities of FNB will be recorded by Glacier at their respective fair values at the time of the merger. The excess of Glacier's purchase price over the net fair value of assets acquired including identifiable intangible assets and liabilities assumed will be recorded as goodwill. Goodwill will be periodically assessed for impairment but no less frequently than on an annual basis. Prior period financial statements are not restated and results of operation of FNB will be included in Glacier's consolidated statement of operations after the date of the merger. The identifiable intangible assets with finite lives, other than goodwill, will be amortized against the combined company's earnings following completion of the merger.

Competition

FNB experiences competition in both lending and attracting funds from other commercial banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations, credit unions, finance companies, pension trusts, mutual funds, insurance companies, mortgage bankers and brokers, brokerage and investment banking firms, asset-based non-bank lenders, government agencies and certain other non-financial institutions, including retail stores, which may offer more favorable financing alternatives than FNB.

FNB also competes with companies located outside of its primary market that provide financial services to persons within its primary market. Some of FNB's current and potential competitors have larger customer bases, greater brand recognition, and significantly greater financial, marketing and other resources than FNB and some of them are not subject to the same degree of regulation as FNB.

Employees

As of December 31, 2018, FNB had 65 full-time and 22 part-time employees. FNB believes that it has a good relationship with its employees and the employees are not represented by a collective bargaining agreement.

Properties

FNB's principal office is located in Layton, Utah. In addition to its principal office, FNB operates, through the Bank, branch offices in Layton (two branches), Bountiful, Clearfield and Draper, Utah. All properties and buildings are owned, except the land that is leased for the Draper, Utah branch and the portion of the land that is leased for the Bountiful, Utah branch.

Legal Proceedings

From time to time, litigation arises in the normal conduct of FNB's business. FNB, however, is not currently involved in any litigation that management of FNB believes, either individually or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition or results of operations.

COMPARISON OF CERTAIN RIGHTS OF HOLDERS OF GLACIER AND FNB COMMON STOCK

Montana law, Glacier's articles and Glacier's bylaws govern the rights of Glacier's shareholders and will govern the rights of FNB's shareholders, who will become shareholders of Glacier as a result of the merger. The rights of FNB's shareholders are currently governed by Utah law, FNB's articles and FNB's bylaws. The following is a brief summary of certain differences between the rights of Glacier and FNB shareholders. This summary is not intended to provide a comprehensive discussion of each company's governing documents. This summary is qualified by the documents referenced and the laws of Montana and Utah. See also "Where You Can Find More Information."

General

Under Glacier's articles, Glacier's authorized capital stock consists of 117,187,500 shares of common stock, $0.01 par value per share, and 1,000,000 shares of preferred stock, $0.01 par value per share. No shares of preferred stock are currently outstanding.

Under FNB's articles, FNB's authorized capital stock consists of 4,000,000 shares of common stock.

The following is a more detailed description of Glacier's and FNB's capital stock.

Common Stock

As of December 31, 2018, there were 84,521,692 shares of Glacier common stock issued and outstanding, in addition to 181,983 shares of unvested restricted stock awards and 26,167 outstanding stock options under Glacier's employee and director equity compensation plans.

As of December 31, 2018, there were 3,160,969 shares of FNB common stock issued and outstanding.

Preferred Stock

As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, Glacier had no shares of preferred stock issued. The Glacier board of directors is authorized, without further shareholder action, to issue preferred stock shares with such designations, preferences and rights as the Glacier board of directors may determine.

FNB's articles of incorporation do not provide for the authorization and issuance of preferred stock.

Dividend Rights

Dividends may be paid on Glacier common stock as and when declared by the Glacier board of directors out of funds legally available for the payment of dividends. The Glacier board of directors may issue preferred stock that is entitled to such dividend rights as the board of directors may determine, including priority over the common stock in the payment of dividends.

The ability of Glacier to pay dividends depends on the amount of dividends paid to it by its subsidiaries. The payment of dividends is subject to government regulation, in that regulatory authorities may prohibit banks and bank holding companies from paying dividends in a manner that would constitute an unsafe or unsound banking practice. In addition, a bank may not pay cash dividends if doing so would reduce the amount of its capital below that necessary to meet minimum applicable regulatory capital requirements. State laws also limit a bank's ability to pay dividends. Accordingly, the dividend restrictions imposed on the subsidiaries by statute or regulation effectively may limit the amount of dividends Glacier can pay.

Dividends may be paid on FNB common stock as and when declared by the FNB Board out of funds legally available for the payment of dividends. FNB has historically declared and paid dividends based upon assumed marginal state and federal income tax rates on FNB income pass through to its shareholders as well as payout ratios of earnings from operations. The ability of FNB to pay dividends to its shareholders, and the ability of the Bank to pay dividends to FNB, is limited under state and federal laws applicable to banks and bank holding companies.

Voting Rights

All voting rights are currently vested in the holders of Glacier common stock and FNB common stock, with each share being entitled to one vote.

Glacier has issued shares of restricted stock pursuant to its equity compensation plans, which do not have voting rights prior to vesting.

Glacier's articles provide that shareholders do not have cumulative voting rights in the election of directors.

FNB's articles provide that each share entitled to vote is entitled to one vote upon matters submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders other than the election of director. With respect to the election of directors, FNB shareholders are entitled to cumulative voting, meaning that a shareholder is entitled to as many votes as equals the number of his or her shares, multiplied by the number of directors to be elected in each class.

Preemptive Rights

Neither Glacier's nor FNB's shareholders have preemptive rights to subscribe to any additional securities that may be issued.

Liquidation Rights

If Glacier is liquidated, the holders of Glacier common stock are entitled to share, on a pro rata basis, Glacier's remaining assets after provision for liabilities. The Glacier board of directors is authorized to determine the liquidation rights of any preferred stock that may be issued.

If FNB is liquidated, the holders of FNB common stock are entitled to share, on a pro rata basis, FNB's remaining assets after provision for liabilities.

Assessments

All outstanding shares of Glacier common stock are, and the shares to be issued in the merger will be, fully paid and nonassessable. All outstanding shares of FNB common stock are fully paid and nonassessable.

Amendment of Articles and Bylaws

The Montana Business Corporation Act (“MBCA”) authorizes a corporation’s board of directors to make various changes of an administrative nature to its articles of incorporation. Other amendments to a corporation’s articles of incorporation must be recommended to the shareholders by the board of directors, unless the board determines that because of a conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation, and must be approved by a majority of all votes entitled to be cast by each voting group that has a right to vote on the amendment.

The Glacier board of directors may, by a majority vote, amend Glacier’s bylaws. Glacier’s bylaws also may be amended by the holders of a majority of votes cast at an annual or special meeting of shareholders.

The FNB Board may, subject to specified limitations, amend, repeal or adopt FNB’s bylaws. FNB’s articles also provide that FNB’s shareholders may alter or amend the bylaws.

Board of Directors – Number of Directors

Glacier’s articles provide that the number of directors may not be less than 7 or more than 17. Glacier’s board currently consists of 10 members, all of whom serve annual terms.

FNB’s bylaws provide that the number of directors may not be fewer than 5 nor more than 15. The FNB Board currently consists of 10 members. Nine of the directors (Classes A, B and C) serve three-year terms. One of the directors (Class D) serves a one-year term.

Indemnification and Limitation of Liability

Under the MBCA, indemnification of directors and officers is authorized to cover judgments, amounts paid in settlement, and expenses arising out of actions where the director or officer acted in good faith and in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and in criminal cases, where the director or officer had no reasonable cause to believe that his or her conduct was unlawful. Unless limited by the corporation’s articles of incorporation, Montana law requires indemnification if the director or officer is wholly successful on the merits of the action. Glacier’s bylaws provide that Glacier shall indemnify its directors and officers to the fullest extent not prohibited by law, including indemnification for payments in actions brought against a director or officer in the name of the corporation, commonly referred to as a derivative action.

Glacier’s articles provide that the personal liability of directors and officers for monetary damages shall be eliminated to the fullest extent permitted by the MBCA.

FNB’s articles provide that to the fullest extent permitted by the URBCA, a director shall have no personal liability to FNB or its shareholders for monetary damages for any action taken or any failure to take any action as a director. FNB’s articles also provide that to the fullest extent permitted by the URBCA, FNB shall indemnify directors from any obligation arising out of the directors’ positions as such.

Potential “Anti-Takeover” Provisions

Glacier’s articles contain a provision requiring that specified transactions with an “interested shareholder” be approved by 80% of the voting power of the then outstanding shares unless it is (i) approved by Glacier’s board of directors, or (ii) certain price and procedural requirements are satisfied. An “interested shareholder” is broadly defined to include the right, directly or indirectly, to acquire or to control the voting or disposition of 10% or more of Glacier’s voting stock.

Table of Contents

In addition, the authorization of preferred stock, which is intended primarily as a financing tool and not as a defensive measure against takeovers, may potentially be used by management to make more difficult uninvited attempts to acquire control of Glacier (for example, by diluting the ownership interest of a substantial shareholder, increasing the amount of consideration necessary for such shareholder to obtain control, or selling authorized but unissued shares to friendly third parties).

The “supermajority” approval requirement for certain business transactions and the availability of Glacier’s preferred stock for issuance without shareholder approval, may have the effect of lengthening the time required for a person to acquire control of Glacier through a tender offer, proxy contest or otherwise, and may deter any potentially unfriendly offers or other efforts to obtain control of Glacier. This could deprive Glacier’s shareholders of opportunities to realize a premium for their Glacier common stock, even in circumstances where such action is favored by a majority of Glacier’s shareholders.

FNB’s articles provide for the division of the board of directors into four classes, three of which classes (Classes A, B and C) serve a three-year term and one of which (Class D) serves a one-year term. Under this structure, referred to as a “staggered” board, only one-third of the board of directors, plus any director serving as a Class D director, are elected in any particular year. A staggered board arrangement may deter a proxy contest or other effort to obtain control of FNB.

CERTAIN LEGAL MATTERS

The validity of the Glacier common stock to be issued in the merger will be passed upon for Glacier by its special counsel, Moore, Cockrell, Goicoechea & Johnson, P.C., Kalispell, Montana.

TERMS OF TRANSACTION

1.1 Effect of Merger. Upon Closing of the Merger, pursuant to the provisions of the MBCA and the UBCA, FNB will merge with and into GBCI with GBCI as the surviving corporation under the MBCA, and in connection therewith, all shares of FNB Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time will, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of any holder of shares of FNB Stock, be (a) with respect to shares of FNB Stock not constituting Proposed Dissenting Shares, converted into the right to receive the Merger Consideration less that portion of the Merger Consideration that is attributable to any Proposed Dissenting Shares, and (b) with respect to any Proposed Dissenting Shares, entitled to the rights provided by the UBCA. Immediately following the Merger, pursuant to the Bank Merger Agreement, the Bank will be merged with and into Glacier Bank, with Glacier Bank as the resulting bank.

1.2 Merger Consideration. Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, including Section 1.3, as of the Effective Time:

1.2.1 Outstanding GBCI Common Stock. The shares of GBCI Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time will remain as issued and outstanding.

1.2.2 Outstanding FNB Stock. Each share of FNB Stock issued and outstanding as of the Effective Time, excluding Proposed Dissenting Shares, will be converted into and represent the right to receive from GBCI the Per Share Stock Consideration, plus the additional Per Share Cash Consideration provided by GBCI pursuant to Section 7.3.2, if any, plus cash in lieu of fractional shares pursuant to Section 1.3, if any.

1.3 No Fractional Shares. No fractional shares of GBCI Common Stock will be issued in the Merger. In lieu of fractional shares, if any, each holder of FNB Stock who is otherwise entitled to receive a fractional share of GBCI Common Stock after adding together all shares of GBCI Common Stock received by such holder in the Merger will receive an amount of cash equal to the product of such fractional share multiplied by the GBCI Average Closing Price. Such fractional share interests will not include the right to vote or receive dividends or any interest on dividends.

1.4 Deposit of Cash and Shares. On or before the Effective Date, GBCI will deposit, or will cause to be deposited, with the Exchange Agent, for the benefit of the holders of FNB Stock, for exchange in accordance with this Section 1.4 and Section 1.5, (a) evidence of shares in book entry form, representing the GBCI Shares for payment of the Total Stock Consideration in full; (b) any Cash Consideration added pursuant to Section 7.3.2, and (c) the cash in lieu of fractional shares to be paid in accordance with Section 1.3. Such cash and evidence of the GBCI Shares, together with any dividends or distributions with respect thereto, are referred to in this Agreement as the “Exchange Fund.”

1.5 Certificates

1.5.1 Letter of Transmittal. GBCI will use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Exchange Agent, within five Business Days following the Effective Date, to mail to each holder of record of a certificate evidencing shares of FNB Stock (a “Certificate”) a form letter of transmittal (which will specify that delivery will be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates will pass, only upon surrender of the Certificates in accordance with Section 1.5.2) advising such holder of the procedure for surrendering to the Exchange Agent the Certificates or other evidence of ownership in exchange for the consideration to which such holder may be entitled pursuant to this Agreement (“Letter of Transmittal”).

1.5.2 Surrender of Certificates. Subject to Appraisal Laws, each Certificate will, from and after the Effective Date, be deemed for all corporate purposes to represent and evidence only the right to receive the portion of the Merger Consideration owing in respect of the number of shares of FNB Stock represented thereby. Following the Effective Date, holders of Certificates will exchange their Certificates and, in accordance with instructions provided in the Letter of Transmittal, shall provide a properly completed and executed Letter of Transmittal in order to effect the exchange of their Certificates for: (a) evidence of issuance in book entry form, or upon written request of such holder and appropriate payment therefor, certificates representing the appropriate number of shares of GBCI Common Stock issuable in the Merger; (b) a check representing his, her, or its Per Share Cash Consideration (if added pursuant to Section 7.3.2) and cash in lieu of fractional shares, if any, to which such holder is entitled. Until the Certificate of a holder and a properly executed Letter of Transmittal is received by the Exchange Agent (or, in the case of a lost, stolen, or destroyed Certificate, the procedure in Section 1.5.4 is complied with), the holder will not be entitled to receive his, her or its portion of the Merger Consideration.

1.5.3 Issuance of Certificates in Other Names. Any Person requesting that any certificate evidencing GBCI Shares be issued in a name other than the name in which the surrendered Certificate is registered must: (a) establish to GBCI’s satisfaction the right to receive the certificate evidencing GBCI Shares and (b) either pay to GBCI any applicable transfer or other Taxes or establish to GBCI’s satisfaction that all applicable Taxes have been paid or are not required.

1.5.4 Lost, Stolen, and Destroyed Certificates. With respect to a Certificate that has been lost, stolen or destroyed, the Exchange Agent will be authorized to issue or pay the holder’s portion of the Merger Consideration in exchange thereof, if the holder provides GBCI with: (a) satisfactory evidence that the holder owns FNB Stock and that the Certificate representing this ownership is lost, stolen, or destroyed, (b) any affidavit or security GBCI’s transfer agent may require in accordance with its policies and procedures (including such bond as may be required by the Exchange Agent in accordance with such policies), and (c) any reasonable additional assurances that GBCI or the Exchange Agent may require.

1.5.5 Rights to Dividends and Distributions. After the Effective Time, no holder of any Certificate will be entitled to receive any dividends or other distributions otherwise payable to holders of record of GBCI Common Stock on any date on or after the Effective Date, unless the holder has surrendered in accordance with this Agreement his, her or its Certificates (or has met the requirements of Section 1.5.4) in exchange for certificates representing GBCI Shares or evidence of GBCI stock ownership. Surrender of Certificates will not deprive the holder of any dividends or distributions that the holder is entitled to receive as a record holder of FNB Stock prior to the Effective Time. When the holder surrenders his, her or its Certificates in exchange for GBCI Shares, the holder shall become a shareholder of record and shall receive the amount, without interest, of any cash dividends and any other distributions declared and distributed after the Effective Time on the whole number of GBCI Shares into which the holder's FNB Stock was converted at the Effective Time.

1.5.6 Checks in Other Names. Any Person requesting that a check for any cash to be received in the Merger or cash in lieu of fractional shares be paid in a name other than the name in which the Certificate surrendered in exchange for the cash is registered must establish to GBCI's satisfaction the right to receive this cash.

1.5.7 Undelivered Certificates. Any portion of the Exchange Fund that remains unclaimed by shareholders of FNB on a date that is six months after the Effective Date may be returned to GBCI, at GBCI's election. To the extent so returned, holders of FNB Stock who have not, prior to such time, complied with the provisions of this Section 1.5 will, from such time forward, look only to GBCI for payment of the Merger Consideration to which they are entitled and/or unpaid dividends and distributions on the GBCI Shares deliverable with respect to each share of FNB Stock held by such holders as determined pursuant to this Agreement, in each case, without any interest. Neither GBCI nor FNB will be liable to any holder of FNB Stock for any amount properly delivered to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar laws. In the event of a dispute with respect to ownership of FNB Stock, GBCI and the Exchange Agent shall be entitled to deposit any Merger Consideration represented thereby in escrow with an independent third party with instructions to release the Merger Consideration as determined between the disputing parties promptly upon resolution of the dispute, and thereafter be relieved of any responsibility with respect to any claims thereto.

ARTICLE 2

FNB is not in violation of any of the provisions of its Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws.

4.1.8 Updates of Financial Statements. FNB will deliver to GBCI Subsequent Bank Financial Statements (a) for each month ending after the Execution Date and before Closing or the Termination Date, as the case may be, within 15 days after each such month-end and (b) for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2018, within 90 days after the end of the fiscal year. The Subsequent FNB Financial Statements: (w) will be prepared from the books and records of FNB and the Bank; (x) will present fairly the financial position and operating results of FNB and/or the Bank at the times indicated and for the periods covered; (y) will be prepared in accordance with GAAP (except for the absence of notes and exceptions from GAAP identified in Section 3.1.5) and with the regulations promulgated by applicable regulatory authorities, to the extent then applicable; and (z) will reflect all liabilities, of FNB and/or the Bank on the respective dates and for the respective periods covered, except for liabilities: (i) not required to be so reflected on the face of a balance sheet in accordance with GAAP or (ii) not significant in amount. All contingent liabilities known to FNB that are required to be reflected in footnotes in accordance with GAAP but not recorded on the Subsequent FNB Financial Statements will be disclosed in writing to GBCI.

4.1.9 Update Schedules. From the Execution Date until Closing, FNB will promptly revise and supplement the Schedules to this Agreement prepared by or on behalf of FNB or the Bank to enable such Schedules to remain accurate and complete in all material respects. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, supplementation of such Schedules following the execution of this Agreement will not be deemed a modification of FNB's representations or warranties contained in this Agreement, except as agreed to in writing by the parties.

4.1.10 Acquisition Proposal. FNB and the Bank will immediately cease and cause to be terminated any existing activities, discussions or negotiations with any Persons conducted heretofore with respect to any Acquisition Proposal. FNB agrees that neither it nor any of its Subsidiaries will, and FNB will direct and use its best efforts to cause its and its Subsidiaries' directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives (including, without limitation, any investment banker, attorney or accountant retained by it or any of its Subsidiaries) not to, initiate, solicit, encourage or take any other action to facilitate any inquiries or the making of any proposal or offer (including, without limitation, any proposal or offer to shareholders of FNB) with respect to an Acquisition Event (any such proposal or offer, an "Acquisition Proposal") or engage in any negotiations concerning, or provide any confidential information or data to, or have any discussions with, any Person relating to an Acquisition Proposal, or otherwise facilitate any effort or attempt to make or implement an Acquisition Proposal; except that, in the event FNB receives an unsolicited bona fide Acquisition Proposal and the board of directors of FNB determines prior to approval of this Agreement and the Merger by FNB's shareholders, in good faith, that (a) such proposal constitutes a Superior Proposal, and (b) fiduciary duties applicable to it require it to engage in negotiations with, or provide confidential information or data to, a Person in connection with such Acquisition Proposal, FNB may do so to the extent required by its fiduciary duties. In such event, prior to providing any confidential information or data to any such Person, FNB and such Person shall have executed a confidentiality agreement on terms at least as favorable to FNB as those contained in its confidentiality agreement with GBCI. FNB will further notify GBCI in writing immediately (and in any event within two Business Days) if any such inquiries or proposals are received by, any such information is requested from, or any such negotiations are sought to be initiated or continued with FNB, or if any such inquiry, proposal or request is thereafter materially modified or amended, including providing to GBCI the material terms and conditions of any such proposal or inquiry in connection with each required notice, together with a copy of any written proposals received. FNB will take the necessary steps to inform the appropriate individuals or entities referred to in the first sentence hereof of the obligations undertaken in this Section 4.1.10.

4.1.11 Status of Title. FNB will use its commercially reasonable efforts to provide GBCI, no later than 30 days after the Execution Date, title commitments for the Owned Real Estate issued by title insurance companies reasonably satisfactory to GBCI (the "Title Companies"), the cost of which shall be paid by FNB. These title commitments must show the current status of title to the Owned Real Estate. Within 30 days after the date on which FNB delivers all of the title commitments to GBCI for its review, GBCI will inform FNB in writing whether, and in what manner, it objects to any of the exceptions to title shown on any of the title commitments ("Objection Notice"). If GBCI provides an Objection Notice, GBCI will be deemed to have waived any exceptions or objections to title with respect to which it has not timely provided an Objection Notice. FNB will, within 20 days of the date on which it receives the written Objection Notice from GBCI, inform GBCI if there are any objections that it is unable or unwilling to remove, cure, or endorse over at or prior to Closing (the "Response Notice"). If no Response Notice is given within such period, FNB will be deemed to have agreed to remove, cure, or endorse over any of the matters set forth in the Objection Notice. FNB will not, in any event, be obligated to seek removal, cure of, or endorsement over exceptions that are (a) non-monetary exceptions that do not prohibit or materially interfere with the use of the Owned Real Estate as bank branch locations or as otherwise used by FNB or the Bank as of the Execution Date, (b) monetary or non-monetary exceptions disclosed in Schedule 3.1.6(a) or in the FNB Financial Statements, or (c) matters that GBCI has not taken objection to in the Objection Notice (such title exceptions, together, "Permitted Exceptions"). FNB will in good faith use commercially reasonable efforts to remove, cure, or endorse over any matters set forth in the Response Notice that are not Permitted Exceptions that are susceptible to cure. At Closing, if requested by GBCI, FNB will cause the Title Companies to provide GBCI with standard coverage title insurance policies issued with respect to each of the Properties constituting Owned Real Estate, in an amount commensurate with the value of each such Property as agreed upon by GBCI and FNB, dated as of the Effective Date, insuring fee title in GBCI or such subsidiary of GBCI, as so designated by GBCI, and that each such Property is unencumbered by any Liens, other than the Permitted Exceptions.

4.1.12 Directors' and Officers' Liability. Before the Effective Date, FNB will notify its directors' and officers' liability insurers of the Transactions and of all pending or, to the Knowledge of FNB, threatened claims, actions, suits, proceedings or investigations asserted or claimed against any Person entitled to indemnification pursuant to Section 6.3 and known to FNB, or circumstances reasonably deemed by GBCI to be likely to give rise thereto, in accordance with terms and conditions of the applicable policies.

4.1.13 Review of Loans. FNB and the Bank will permit GBCI and its advisors, at GBCI's sole cost and expense, to conduct an examination of the Bank's loans to determine credit quality and the adequacy of the Bank's ALLL and to establish appropriate accounting adjustments under Financial Accounting Standards No. 141R published by the Financial Accounting Standards Board. GBCI and its advisors will have continued access to the Bank's loans through Closing to update its examination. At GBCI's reasonable request, the Bank will provide GBCI with current reports updating the information set forth in Schedule 3.1.15.

4.1.14 Continuing Representation and Warranties. Neither FNB nor any of its Subsidiaries will do or cause to be done anything that would cause any representation or warranty made by it in this Agreement to be untrue or inaccurate if made at Closing, except as otherwise contemplated or required by this Agreement or consented to in writing by GBCI.

4.2 Registration Statement; FNB Shareholders Meeting.

4.2.1 Preparation of Registration Statement.

(a) GBCI will use its commercially reasonable efforts to prepare and file a Registration Statement on Form S-4 (together with any amendments or supplements, the "Registration Statement") with the SEC within 45 days after the Execution Date for registration of the GBCI Shares to be issued in the Merger, and the parties will prepare a related prospectus/proxy statement (the "Prospectus/Proxy Statement") to be mailed, together with any amendments and supplements thereto, to FNB's shareholders.

(b) The parties will cooperate with each other in preparing the Registration Statement and Prospectus/Proxy Statement, and will use their commercially reasonable efforts to obtain the clearance of the SEC, if required, any appropriate state securities regulators and any other required regulatory approvals, to issue the Prospectus/Proxy Statement.

(c) Nothing will be included in the Registration Statement or the Prospectus/Proxy Statement or any proxy solicitation materials with respect to any party to this Agreement unless approved by that party, which approval will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned, or delayed. When the Registration Statement becomes effective, and at all times subsequent to such effectiveness (up to and including the date of the FNB Meeting), all information set forth in the Registration Statement that is or to be furnished by or on behalf of GBCI relating to GBCI and its Subsidiaries and by or on behalf of FNB relating to FNB and the Bank, (i) will comply in all material respects with the provisions of the Securities Act and any other applicable statutory or regulatory requirements, and (ii) will not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact that is required to be stated or necessary to make the statements in the Registration Statement not misleading; provided, however, that in no event will any party be liable for any untrue statement of a material fact or omission to state a material fact in the Registration Statement where such statement or omission, as the case may be, was made in reliance upon, and in conformity with, written information concerning another party furnished by or on behalf of such other party specifically for use in the Registration Statement.

(d) GBCI will pay all fees and costs associated with the preparation by GBCI's counsel (and other professional advisors) and the filing of the Registration Statement. FNB will pay all fees and costs associated with its review and preparation of the Registration Statement and the Prospectus/Proxy Statement, with all such fees and costs to be included as and in the calculation of Transaction Related Expenses. FNB will pay the costs associated with the printing and mailing of the Prospectus/Proxy Statement to its shareholders and any other direct costs incurred by it in connection with the Prospectus/Proxy Statement, with all such costs to be included as and in the calculation of Transaction Related Expenses.

4.2.2 Submission to Shareholders. FNB will promptly take the actions necessary in accordance with applicable law and its articles of incorporation and bylaws to convene a shareholders' meeting to consider the approval of this Agreement and to authorize the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (such meeting and any adjournment or postponement thereof, the "FNB Meeting"). The FNB Meeting will be held on the earliest practical date after the date the Prospectus/Proxy Statement may first be sent to FNB's shareholders without objection by applicable Governmental Authorities. The board of directors of FNB has adopted a resolution recommending approval of this Agreement by FNB's shareholders, and it shall not withdraw, modify, or qualify its recommendation unless, subsequent to the Execution Date, FNB receives a Superior Proposal and the board of directors of FNB determines, in good faith and after consultation with independent legal counsel, that it would be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties not to withdraw, modify, or qualify such recommendation. FNB shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to obtain from the shareholders of FNB approval of this Agreement in accordance with Utah law, including (except as provided in the preceding sentence) by communicating to its shareholders its recommendation (and including such recommendation in the Prospectus/Proxy Statement) that they approve this Agreement and the Merger. FNB shall adjourn or postpone the FNB Meeting if, as of the time for which such meeting is originally scheduled, there are insufficient shares of FNB Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct the business of such meeting, or if, on the date of such FNB Meeting, (a) FNB has not received proxies representing a sufficient number of shares necessary to obtain the required approval by FNB's shareholders and such approval remains possible to obtain and (b) the shareholders of FNB have authorized by the requisite vote under Utah law the adjournment pursuant to the Prospectus/Proxy Statement.

4.3 Submission to Regulatory Authorities. GBCI will use its commercially reasonable efforts to promptly prepare and file all necessary documentation, to effect all applications, notices, petitions and filings, and to obtain all permits, approvals, consents, authorizations, waivers, clearances, and orders of Governmental Entities necessary or advisable, in the opinion of GBCI's counsel, to consummate the Transactions (the "Requisite Regulatory Approvals"), and to comply with the terms and conditions of all Requisite Regulatory Approvals, and to obtain as promptly as practicable all consents of third parties which are necessary or advisable to consummate the Transaction. GBCI will provide copies of all non-confidential portions of such applications for review by FNB prior to their submission to the applicable Governmental Authorities. GBCI will use its commercially reasonable efforts to make all such applications, notices, petitions and filings relating to the Requisite Regulatory Approvals within 45 days of the Execution Date. These applications are expected to include: (a) an interagency bank merger application to be filed with the FDIC and a waiver to be sought from, or application to be filed with, the Federal Reserve with respect to the Merger, and a notice to be provided to the OCC; (b) an application to the Commissioner of the Montana Division and related filings regarding the Transactions; and (c) filings and coordination with the offices of the Secretary of State of Montana and the Utah Division of Corporations, with respect to the Merger and the Bank Merger. FNB and the Bank will cooperate and use commercially reasonable efforts to prepare all documentation, timely effect all filings and obtain, and to assist GBCI in obtaining, all Requisite Regulatory Approvals. FNB and the Bank shall fully cooperate with GBCI and, upon request, furnish GBCI with all information concerning itself, and its directors, officers, and shareholders and such other matters as may be reasonably necessary or advisable in connection with any statement, filing, notice, or application made by or on behalf of GBCI, Glacier Bank, FNB, or the Bank to any third party or Governmental Authority in connection with the Transaction.

4.4 Public Announcements. Subject to advice of legal counsel with respect to legal requirements relating to public disclosure of matters related to this Agreement, the timing and content of any announcements, press releases or other public statements concerning the Merger will occur upon, and be determined by, the mutual consent of FNB and GBCI.

4.5 Consents. Each party to this Agreement will use its commercially reasonable efforts to obtain the timely consent or approval of any other Person whose consent or approval is necessary or appropriate in order to permit GBCI or FNB and Glacier Bank or the Bank to consummate the Merger or the Bank Merger.

4.6 Further Actions. The parties to this Agreement will use their commercially reasonable efforts in good faith to make all such arrangements, do or cause to be done all such acts and things, and execute and deliver all such certificates and other instruments and documents as may be reasonably necessary or appropriate in order to consummate the Transaction promptly.

4.7 Transition. During the period from the Execution Date to the Effective Time, FNB and the Bank shall cause one or more of their respective representatives to confer with representatives of GBCI and Glacier Bank and report the general status of their ongoing operations at such times as GBCI and Glacier Bank may reasonably request. Representatives of GBCI, Glacier Bank, FNB, and the Bank shall also meet as requested by or on behalf of GBCI to discuss and plan for the conversion of the Bank's data processing and related electronic informational systems to those used by GBCI and Glacier Bank, which planning shall include, but not be limited to, discussion of the possible termination by the Bank of third-party service provider arrangements effective at the Effective Time or at a date thereafter, non-renewal of personal property leases and software licenses used by the Bank in connection with its systems operations, retention of outside consultants and additional employees to assist with the conversion, and outsourcing, as appropriate, of proprietary or self-provided system services, it being understood that neither FNB nor the Bank shall be obligated to take any such action prior to the Effective Time and, unless FNB and the Bank otherwise agree, no conversion shall take place prior to the Effective Time; provided, however, no such request by or behalf of GBCI or Glacier Bank shall interfere materially with the performance of duties by any employee of FNB or the Bank.

4.8 Notice. GBCI and FNB will each provide the other with prompt written notice of: (a) Any events that, individually or in the aggregate, can reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to it; or (b) the commencement of any investigation, action or proceeding against it by or before any court or Governmental Authority that, individually or in the aggregate, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect with respect to it. In addition, FNB shall promptly advise GBCI orally and in writing of any shareholder litigation or community-based protests against FNB or its directors relating to this Agreement or the Transactions and shall keep GBCI fully informed regarding any such shareholder litigation or protests, including providing all relevant documentation reasonably requested. No settlement shall be agreed to without GBCI's prior written consent. In addition, FNB will notify GBCI in the event it or any FNB Subsidiary acquires a fee ownership or leasehold interest in any real property, as specified in Section 4.1.2.

4.9 Confidentiality. Subject to the requirements of law, each party will keep confidential, and will exercise its best efforts to cause its representatives to keep confidential, all information and documents obtained pursuant to this Agreement unless such information (a) is required by Law to be disclosed, (b) becomes available to such party from other sources not bound by a confidentiality obligation, (c) is disclosed with prior written approval of the party to which such information pertains or is disclosed in a legal action between the parties relating to this Agreement or the Transaction, or (d) is or becomes public without fault of the subject party. If this Agreement is terminated or the Merger otherwise fails to be consummated, each party to this Agreement will promptly (i) return to the other, or certify as to their destruction, at the recipient's option, all confidential documents obtained from them, provided that each party may retain one copy of such confidential documents for evidentiary purposes; and (ii) not use or disclose any nonpublic information obtained under or in connection with this Agreement or in connection with the Transaction.

4.12 Tax Matters.

4.12.1 Tax Treatment. Neither GBCI and its Subsidiaries nor FNB and the Bank will take or cause to be taken any action that would or could reasonably be expected to prevent the Transactions from qualifying as a reorganization under IRC Section 368(a), other than treating any cash paid, whether for fractional shares, Dissenting Shares, or otherwise, as taxable.

4.12.2 Maintenance of S-corporation Status. Neither FNB nor any of its Subsidiaries will (a) revoke FNB's election to be taxed as an S-corporation within the meaning of IRC Section 1361 and IRC Section 1362 or (b) revoke the Bank's or each other FNB Subsidiaries' status as a "qualified subchapter S subsidiary" within the meaning of IRC Section 1361(b)(3)(B), and neither GBCI nor any of its Subsidiaries will take any action after the Effective Time to retroactively revoke such election. Other than the Transaction, neither FNB nor any of its Subsidiaries will take any action or allow any action that (x) would cause FNB to no longer be treated as an S-corporation within the meaning of IRC Section 1361 and IRC Section 1362 or (y) would cause the Bank or any other FNB Subsidiary to no longer be treated as a "qualified subchapter S subsidiary" within the meaning of IRC Section 1361(b)(3)(B).

4.12.3 Tax Returns.

(a) During the period from the date of this Agreement to the Effective Time, FNB and each of its Subsidiaries will prepare and timely file, or cause to be prepared and timely filed, all Tax Returns required to be filed during such period (each, a "Post-Signing Return") by each such entity, and will timely pay all Taxes that are due and payable during such period with respect to any such Post-Signing Return. The Post-Signing Returns shall include all returns and related reporting required for the tax year ending December 31, 2018 (which returns shall be completed and filed by April 30, 2019), and all such Post-Signing Returns filed by FNB and its Subsidiaries will be true, correct, and complete in all material respects and, except as otherwise required by Law, shall be prepared on a basis consistent with the past practice of FNB. FNB will provide copies of any Post-Signing Return to GBCI at least 20 days prior to the date on which such return will be filed for reasonable review and comment by GBCI, and if reasonably desired by GBCI, consultation with GBCI.

(b) GBCI will engage FNB's independent accountants to prepare and timely file, or cause to be prepared and timely filed, all Tax Returns required to be filed by FNB or any of its Subsidiaries due after the Effective Time but related to the period prior to the Effective Date. All such Tax Returns will, except as otherwise required by Law or as recommended by the independent accountant, be prepared on a basis consistent with the past practices of FNB.

4.13 FNB Closing Capital. No earlier than the 15th Business Day prior to the parties' agreed-upon anticipated date of Closing (the "Anticipated Closing Date") nor later than the 10th Business Day before the Anticipated Closing Date (which will be not earlier than April 9th nor later than April 16th, in the event the Closing Date is April 30, 2019), FNB shall calculate in good faith and provide to GBCI the estimated FNB Capital as of the Anticipated Closing Date and shall provide GBCI with a copy of the proposed Subsequent Bank Financial Statements for the month preceding the date of calculation (if not already provided in accordance with Section 4.1.8), together with internally prepared financial statements through the date of calculation, estimated retained earnings through the Anticipated Closing Date, the impact of any pending adjustments required in the calculation of the estimated FNB Capital, and any other documentation reasonably requested by GBCI for purposes of confirming the amount of such estimated FNB Capital. GBCI shall review such materials and, within three Business Days following receipt thereof, notify FNB as to whether GBCI accepts or disputes the amount of the estimated FNB Capital. If GBCI disputes such calculation in good faith, it shall describe in its notice its specific requested changes or adjustments. If GBCI and FNB are unable to resolve such dispute through good faith negotiations within three Business Days after delivery of GBCI's notice of objection, then the parties shall mutually engage and submit such dispute to, and the same shall be finally resolved by, an accounting firm that is mutually and reasonably acceptable to the parties (the "Independent Accountants"). The Independent Accountants shall review the matter in dispute and, solely as to disputes relating to accounting issues and acting as an expert and not as an arbitrator, determine and report in writing to GBCI and FNB the resolution of such disputed matters and the effect of such determinations on the calculation of the FNB Capital estimated as of the Anticipated Closing Date (unadjusted for any delay that may have been caused by the Independent Accountants' review of the matter(s) in dispute), and such determinations shall be final, binding and conclusive unless GBCI and FNB mutually agree upon a different amount. The FNB Capital estimated as of Closing, as determined and agreed upon in writing by GBCI and FNB in accordance with this Section 4.13, is the "FNB Closing Capital." The fees and disbursements of the Independent Accountants pursuant to this Section 4.13 and Section 4.14 below shall be shared equally by GBCI, on the one hand, and FNB, on the other hand, and FNB's portion shall be an expense in the calculation of the FNB Closing Capital.

4.14 Transaction Related Expenses. No earlier than the 15th Business Day prior to Closing nor later than the 10th Business Day before such Closing, FNB shall calculate in good faith the estimated Transaction Related Expenses as of the Closing and shall provide GBCI with a copy of a schedule in the form of Exhibit A detailing each Transaction Related Expense and any other documentation reasonably requested by GBCI for purposes of confirming the amount of such Transaction Related Expenses. GBCI shall review such materials and, within three Business Days following receipt thereof, notify FNB as to whether GBCI accepts or disputes the amount of the estimated Transaction Related Expenses. If GBCI disputes such calculation in good faith, it shall describe in its notice its specific requested changes or adjustments. If GBCI and FNB are unable to resolve such dispute through good faith negotiations within three Business Days after delivery of GBCI's notice of objection, then the parties shall mutually engage and submit such dispute to, and the same shall be finally resolved by the Independent Accountants in accordance with the process set forth in Section 4.13. The Transaction Related Expenses estimated as of Closing, as determined and agreed upon in writing by GBCI and FNB in accordance with this Section 4.14, are the "Final Transaction Related Expenses."

4.15 Payment of Dividend; Adjustment to Consideration. If the FNB Closing Capital exceeds the Closing Capital Requirement (i.e. the Closing Capital Differential is a positive number) after making all adjustments required by the terms of this Agreement (including, without limitation in the event the Final Transaction Related Expenses exceed the Maximum Transaction Expense Amount), FNB may, upon prior written notice to GBCI and effective immediately prior to the Effective Time, declare and pay a special dividend to its shareholders in the amount equal to the positive Closing Capital Differential. If the FNB Closing Capital is less than the Closing Capital Requirement after making all adjustments required by the terms of this Agreement (including, without limitation, in the event the Final Transaction Related Expenses exceed the Maximum Transaction Expense Amount), the Total Stock Consideration shall be reduced by the Stock Consideration Adjustment Amount.

4.16 Commercially Reasonable Efforts. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, each party will use its commercially reasonable efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or desirable, or advisable under applicable laws, so as to permit consummation of the Merger on April 30, 2019; and in any case, as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, and to otherwise enable consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, subject to any delays resulting from SEC review or bank regulatory processing.

4.17 GBCI Common Stock Issuable in Merger. The shares of GBCI Common Stock to be issued pursuant to this Agreement, when issued in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, will be duly authorized, validly issued, fully paid and non-assessable and subject to no preemptive rights.

4.19 Advisory Board. As promptly as practicable following the Effective Date, Glacier Bank shall establish an advisory board for the Division (the "Advisory Board") to be comprised initially of three or more individuals who had served on the board of directors of FNB or the Bank as of the Effective Date. The Advisory Board shall be operated in a manner consistent with Glacier Bank's other division boards, and its function shall be, among other things, to advise and provide support to Glacier Bank with respect to the Division and its market area, deposit retention, lending activities and customer relationships.

6.1 Director and Voting Agreements. As a condition to the execution of this Agreement, the directors and executive officers of FNB have entered into the written agreements described in Recital E on or before the Execution Date.

6.2 Employee Benefit Issues.

6.2.1 Comparability of Benefits. GBCI's and Glacier Bank's personnel policies will apply to any current Employees who are retained after the Effective Time. 6.3 Indemnification of Directors and Executive Officers. For a period of six years from and after the Effective Date, GBCI will indemnify and defend each present and former director and officer of FNB and the Bank from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, judgments, fines, damages, costs, and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative, arising out of actions or omissions accruing at or prior to the Effective Time, including, without limitation, the Merger to the fullest extent that FNB and/or the Bank is currently permitted to indemnify (and advance expenses to) its directors and officers under applicable law, including federal banking law, and under their respective articles of incorporation or bylaws in effect on the Execution Date provided, however that all rights to indemnification in respect of any claim asserted or made in accordance with this Section 6.3 shall continue until the final disposition of such claim. TERMINATION OF AGREEMENT AND ABANDONMENT OF TRANSACTION

7.1 Termination by Reason of Lapse of Time. If Closing does not occur on or before September 30, 2019 (the "Outside Date"), either GBCI or FNB may terminate this Agreement and the Merger if both of the following conditions are satisfied:

7.1.1 the terminating party's board of directors decides to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members; and

7.1.2 the terminating party delivers to the other party written notice that its board of directors has voted in favor of termination; provided that, if as of such Outside Date, the condition to Closing set forth in Section 5.1 shall not have been satisfied, then the Outside Date will be extended to on or before November 30, 2019, if GBCI notifies FNB in writing on or prior to the Outside Date of its election to extend the Outside Date; and provided, further that, the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.1 shall not be available to any party whose failure to perform or observe the covenants and agreements of such party set forth in this Agreement resulted in the failure of the Merger to be completed by the applicable Outside Date.

7.2 Termination Due to GBCI Average Closing Price Greater Than $46.63.

7.2.1 GBCI's Right to Terminate. By specific action of its board of directors but subject to Section 7.2.2, GBCI may terminate this Agreement by written notice sent to FNB on the Business Day immediately following the Determination Date, if the GBCI Average Closing Price is greater than $46.63. Prior to a termination pursuant to this Section 7.2.1, the parties will have made appropriate adjustments to take into account the declaration or effects of a stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split, or similar transaction involving the issuance of GBCI Common Stock for which no consideration is received between the Execution Date and the Determination Date.

7.2.2 FNB's Right to Adjust Consideration. If GBCI provides written notice to FNB in accordance with Section 7.2.1, then within three Business Days following FNB's receipt of such notice, FNB may elect by written notice to GBCI to accept an adjustment to the Total Stock Consideration through the issuance of fewer GBCI Shares; in such event, the Total Stock Consideration shall be the number of GBCI Shares equal to the quotient obtained by dividing (a) the product of (i) the value of the Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares multiplied by (ii) $46.63 (i.e., the upper limit GBCI Average Closing Price prior to taking into account the declaration or effects of a stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction involving the issuance of GBCI Common Stock for which no consideration is received between the Execution Date and the Determination Date) by (b) the GBCI Average Closing Price rounded up to the nearest whole share. If FNB makes such election to accept a decrease in the number of GBCI Shares to be issued as the Total Stock Consideration, no termination will occur pursuant to Section 7.2.1, and this Agreement will remain in effect according to its terms (except as the Total Stock Consideration has been adjusted).

7.3 Termination Due to GBCI Average Closing Price Less Than $34.47.

7.3.1 FNB's Rights to Terminate. By specific action of its board of directors but subject to Section 7.3.2, FNB may terminate this Agreement by written notice sent to GBCI on the Business Day immediately following the Determination Date, if the GBCI Average Closing Price is (a)(i) less than $34.47 and (ii) the price of GBCI Common Stock has, during the period from October 23, 2018, through the Determination Date, underperformed the KBW Regional Banking Index by more than 10 percentage points (i.e. in the event the price of GBCI Common Stock has declined by 16.0 percent, then the KBW Regional Banking Index has declined by less than 6.0 percent), or (b) less than $32.44. Prior to a termination pursuant to this Section 7.3.1, the parties will have made appropriate adjustments to take into account the declaration or effects of a stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction involving the issuance of GBCI Common Stock for which no consideration is received between the Execution Date and the Determination Date.

Table of Contents

7.3.2 GBCI's Right to Adjust Consideration. If FNB provides written notice to GBCI in accordance with Section 7.3.1, then within three Business Days following GBCI's receipt of such notice, GBCI may elect by written notice to FNB to:

(a) In the event of a termination pursuant to Section 7.3.1(a), adjust the Total Stock Consideration through the issuance of additional GBCI Shares or, in GBCI's sole and absolute discretion, payment of Cash Consideration, or a combination thereof, such that the total value of the GBCI Shares to be issued in the Merger (based on the GBCI Average Closing Price rounded up to the nearest whole share), plus any Cash Consideration, is equal to the product of (i) the value of the Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares multiplied by (ii) $34.47 (i.e., the intermediate lower limit GBCI Average Closing Price prior to taking into account the declaration or effects of a stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction involving the issuance of GBCI Common Stock for which no consideration is received between the Execution Date and the Determination Date)); or

(b) In the event of a termination pursuant to Section 7.3.1(b) adjust the Total Stock Consideration through the issuance of additional GBCI Shares or, in GBCI's sole and absolute discretion, payment of Cash Consideration, or a combination thereof, such that the total value of the GBCI Shares to be issued in the Merger (based on the GBCI Average Closing Price rounded up to the nearest whole share), plus any Cash Consideration, is equal to the product of (i) the value of the Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares multiplied by (ii) $32.44 (i.e., the lower limit GBCI Average Closing Price prior to taking into account the declaration or effects of a stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split or similar transaction involving the issuance of GBCI Common Stock for which no consideration is received between the Execution Date and the Determination Date).

(c) For purposes of this Section 7.3:

"Cash Consideration" shall mean the total cash consideration to be paid to holders of shares of FNB Stock as consideration for the Merger under this Section 7.3.2.

"Total Pre-Collar-Adjusted GBCI Shares" means 2,046,411 shares of GBCI Common Stock minus the Stock Consideration Adjustment Amount, if any, which is the number of shares of GBCI Common Stock to be issued to holders of the FNB Stock in the Merger prior to any adjustments pursuant to this Section 7.3.2.

7.3.3 Effect of GBCI Election. If GBCI makes an election to increase the Total Stock Consideration or pay Cash Consideration (or a combination thereof) pursuant to Section 7.3.2, no termination will occur pursuant to Section 7.3.1, and this Agreement will remain in effect according to its terms (except as the Total Stock Consideration or Cash Consideration has been adjusted).

7.4 Other Grounds for Termination. This Agreement and the Merger may be terminated at any time before Closing (whether before or after applicable approval of this Agreement by FNB's shareholders, unless otherwise provided) by FNB (on behalf of itself and the Bank) or GBCI (on behalf of itself and Glacier Bank) as follows:

7.4.1 Mutual Consent. By mutual consent of FNB and GBCI, if the board of directors of each party agrees to terminate by a majority vote of all of its members.

7.4.2 No Regulatory Approvals. By FNB or GBCI, if a Governmental Authority that must grant a Requisite Regulatory Approval has denied a Requisite Regulatory Approval or a Requisite Regulatory Approval is conditioned on a substantial deviation from the Merger; provided, however, that either party will have 15 Business Days following receipt of any denial to appeal the decision, and if such appeal is timely made, either party will have 60 days to prosecute diligently and overturn such denial and such other party may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.4.2 during such period of time; provided further, however, either party shall be entitled to terminate this Agreement pursuant to the terms of Section 7.1 during such period of time.

7.4.3 Breach of Representation. By FNB or GBCI (provided that the terminating party is not then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, agreements or covenants in this Agreement if they are not qualified as to materiality and is not then in breach of any of its representations, warranties, agreements or covenants in this Agreement if they are qualified as to materiality) if there has been a material breach of any of the representations or warranties set forth in this Agreement that are not qualified as to materiality or a breach of any of the representations or warranties set forth in this Agreement that are qualified as to materiality on the part of the other party, which breach is not cured within 30 days following written notice to the party committing such breach, or which breach, by its nature, cannot be cured prior to the end of such 30-day period; provided, however, that neither party will have the right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.4.3 unless the breach of such representation or warranty, together with any other such breaches, would entitle the party receiving such representation not to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby under Section 5.2.1 (in the case of a breach of a representation or warranty by FNB) or Section 5.3.1 (in the case of a breach of a representation or warranty by GBCI).

7.4.4 Breach of Covenant. By FNB or GBCI (provided that the terminating party is not then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, agreements or covenants in this Agreement if they are not qualified as to materiality and is not then in breach of any of its representations, warranties, agreements or covenants in this Agreement if they are qualified as to materiality) if there has been a material breach of any of the covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement that are not qualified as to materiality or a breach of any of the covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement that are qualified as to materiality on the part of the other party, which breach is not cured within 30 days following written notice to the party committing such breach, or which breach, by its nature, cannot be cured prior to the end of such 30-day period.

7.4.5 Failure to Recommend or Obtain Shareholder Approval. By GBCI (provided that GBCI is not then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements in this Agreement), if (a) FNB's board of directors (i) fails to recommend to its shareholders the approval of the Merger or (ii) modifies, withdraws, or changes in a manner adverse to GBCI its recommendation to shareholders to approve the Merger; or (b) FNB's shareholders elect not to approve the Merger.

7.4.6 Dissenting Shares. By GBCI, if holders of 10 percent or more of the outstanding shares of FNB Stock are Proposed Dissenting Shares.

7.4.7 Superior Proposal—Termination by FNB. By the board of directors of FNB upon written notice to GBCI if such board of directors has in good faith determined that an Acquisition Proposal received by FNB constitutes a Superior Proposal; provided, however, that FNB may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 7.4.7 unless (a) it has not breached Sections 4.1.10 or Section 4.2.2, (b) immediately following the delivery of such notice of termination, it enters into a definitive acquisition agreement relating to such Superior Proposal, (c) it has provided GBCI at least five days' prior written notice advising GBCI that the board of directors of FNB is prepared to accept the Superior Proposal and has given GBCI, if it so elects, an opportunity to amend the terms of this Agreement (and negotiated with GBCI in good faith with respect to such terms) in such a manner as would enable the members of FNB's board of directors to proceed with the Merger in accordance with their fiduciary duties, and (d) simultaneously upon entering into such definitive acquisition agreement relating to such Superior Proposal referred to in clause (b), it delivers to GBCI the Break-Up Fee.

7.4.8 Superior Proposal—Termination by GBCI. By GBCI upon written notice to FNB if an Acquisition Event will have occurred.

7.5 Break-Up Fee. If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 7.4.5(a), Section 7.4.7, or Section 7.4.8, then FNB will immediately pay to GBCI $3,200,000 (the "Break-Up Fee"). If this Agreement is terminated pursuant to Section 7.4.5(b), or by GBCI pursuant to Section 7.4.4 for breach of either Section 4.1.10 or Section 4.2.2, and within 18 months after such termination, FNB or the Bank enters into an agreement for, or publicly announces an intention to engage in, an Acquisition Event, or within 18 months after such termination an Acquisition Event occurs, then FNB will promptly following such entry, announcement, or occurrence pay to GBCI the Break-Up Fee.

7.6 Cost Allocation Upon Termination; Limitations; Break-Up Fee as Liquidated Damages. In connection with the termination of this Agreement under this Article 7, except as provided in Section 7.5, each party will pay its own out-of-pocket costs incurred in connection with this Agreement and will have no liability to the other parties arising from such termination, except that in the event of a termination under Section 7.4.3 or Section 7.4.4 in a circumstance in which no Break-Up Fee is paid, no party will be relieved from any liability arising out of the underlying breach by reason of such termination. The parties acknowledge and agree that the agreements contained in Section 7.5 are an integral part of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and that, without these agreements, neither party would enter into this Agreement. Any amount payable by FNB pursuant to Section 7.5 constitutes liquidated damages and not a penalty and shall be the sole monetary remedy of GBCI in the event of termination of this Agreement under circumstances that give rise to payment of the Break-Up Fee. In the event that FNB fails to pay the Break-Up Fee when due, then (a) FNB shall reimburse GBCI for all costs and expenses (including disbursements and reasonable fees of counsel) incurred in connection with the collection of unpaid or overdue amounts, and (b) FNB shall pay to GBCI interest on such overdue amounts (for the period commencing as of the date that such overdue amount was originally required to be paid and ending on the date that such overdue amount is actually paid in full) at a rate per annum equal to the prime rate published in The Wall Street Journal on the date such payment was required to be made, plus 2 percent.

- (1) A shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, is entitled to dissent from, and obtain payment of the fair value of shares held by him in the event of, any of the following corporate actions:

(d) consummation of a sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, of the property of an entity controlled by the corporation if the shareholders of the corporation were entitled to vote upon the consent of the corporation to the disposition pursuant to Subsection 16-10a-1202(2).

(2) A shareholder is entitled to dissent and obtain payment of the fair value of his shares in the event of any other corporate action to the extent the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or a resolution of the board of directors so provides.

(3) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this part, except to the extent otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or a resolution of the board of directors, and subject to the limitations set forth in Subsection (4), a shareholder is not entitled to dissent and obtain payment under Subsection (1) of the fair value of the shares of any class or series of shares which either were listed on a national securities exchange registered under the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or on the National Market System of the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation System, or were held of record by more than 2,000 shareholders, at the time of:

(a) the record date fixed under Section 16-10a-707 to determine the shareholders entitled to receive notice of the shareholders' meeting at which the corporate action is submitted to a vote;

(c) cash in lieu of fractional shares; or

(d) any combination of the shares described in Subsection (4), or cash in lieu of fractional shares.

(5) A shareholder entitled to dissent and obtain payment for his shares under this part may not challenge the corporate action creating the entitlement unless the action is unlawful or fraudulent with respect to him or to the corporation.

16-10a-1303. Dissent by nominees and beneficial owners.

(1) A record shareholder may assert dissenters' rights as to fewer than all the shares registered in his name only if the shareholder dissents with respect to all shares beneficially owned by any one person and causes the corporation to receive written notice which states the dissent and the name and address of each person on whose behalf dissenters' rights are being asserted. The rights of a partial dissenter under this subsection are determined as if the shares as to which the shareholder dissents and the other shares held of record by him were registered in the names of different shareholders.

(2) A beneficial shareholder may assert dissenters' rights as to shares held on his behalf only if:

(a) the beneficial shareholder causes the corporation to receive the record shareholder's written consent to the dissent not later than the time the beneficial shareholder asserts dissenters' rights; and

(b) the beneficial shareholder dissents with respect to all shares of which he is the beneficial shareholder.

(3) The corporation may require that, when a record shareholder dissents with respect to the shares held by any one or more beneficial shareholders, each beneficial shareholder shall certify to the corporation that both he and the record shareholders of all shares owned beneficially by him have asserted, or will timely assert, dissenters' rights as to all the shares unlimited on the ability to exercise dissenters' rights. The certification requirement shall be stated in the dissenters' notice given pursuant to Section 16-10a-1322.

16-10a-1320. Notice of dissenters' rights.

The notice shall state that shareholders are or may be entitled to assert dissenters' rights under this part. The notice shall be accompanied by a copy of this part and the materials, if any, that under this chapter are required to be given the shareholders entitled to vote on the proposed action at the meeting. Failure to give notice as required by this subsection does not affect any action taken at the shareholders' meeting for which the notice was to have been given.

(2) If a proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under Section 16-10a-1302 is authorized without a meeting of shareholders pursuant to Section 16-10a-704, any written or oral solicitation of a shareholder to execute a written consent to the action contemplated by Section 16-10a-704 shall be accompanied or preceded by a written notice stating that shareholders are or may be entitled to assert dissenters' rights under this part, by a copy of this part, and by the materials, if any, that under this chapter would have been required to be given to shareholders entitled to vote on the proposed action if the proposed action were submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting. 16-10a-1321. Demand for payment — Eligibility and notice of intent.

(1) If a proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under Section 16-10a-1302 is submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting, a shareholder who wishes to assert dissenters' rights:

(3) In order to be entitled to payment for shares under this part, unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or a resolution adopted by the board of directors, a shareholder shall have been a shareholder with respect to the shares for which payment is demanded as of the date the proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under Section 16-10a-1302 is approved by the shareholders, if shareholder approval is required, or as of the effective date of the corporate action if the corporate action is authorized other than by a vote of shareholders.

(2) If the effective date of the corporate action creating dissenters' rights under Section 16-10a-1302 occurs more than 60 days after the date set by the corporation as the date by which the corporation must receive payment demands as provided in Section 16-10a-1322, then the corporation shall send a new dissenters' notice, as provided in Section 16-10a-1322, and the provisions of Sections 16-10a-1323 through 16-10a-1328 shall again be applicable.

16-10a-1327. Special provisions relating to shares acquired after announcement of proposed corporate action.

(1) A corporation may, with the dissenters' notice given pursuant to Section 16-10a-1322, state the date of the first announcement to news media or to shareholders of the terms of the proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under Section 16-10a-1302 and state that a shareholder who asserts dissenters' rights must certify in writing, in or with the payment demand, whether or not he or the person on whose behalf he asserts dissenters' rights acquired beneficial ownership of the shares before that date. With respect to any dissenter who does not certify in writing, in or with the payment demand that he or the person on whose behalf the dissenters' rights are being asserted, acquired beneficial ownership of the shares before that date, the corporation may, in lieu of making the payment provided in Section 16-10a-1325, offer to make payment if the dissenter agrees to accept it in full satisfaction of his demand.

(2) An offer to make payment under Subsection (1) shall include or be accompanied by the information required by Subsection 16-10a-1325(2).

16-10a-1328. Procedure for shareholder dissatisfied with payment or offer.

(1) A dissenter who has not accepted an offer made by a corporation under Section 16-10a-1327 may notify the corporation in writing of his own estimate of the fair value of his shares and demand payment of the estimated amount, plus interest, less any payment made under Section 16-10a-1325, if:

(a) the dissenter believes that the amount paid under Section 16-10a-1325 or offered under Section 16-10a-1327 is less than the fair value of the shares;

(b) the corporation fails to make payment under Section 16-10a-1325 within 60 days after the date set by the corporation as the date by which it must receive the payment demand; or

(c) the corporation, having failed to take the proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights, does not return the deposited certificates or release the transfer restrictions imposed on uncertificated shares as required by Section 16-10a-1326.

(2) A dissenter waives the right to demand payment under this section unless he causes the corporation to receive the notice required by Subsection

(1) within 30 days after the corporation made or offered payment for his shares.

16-10a-1330. Judicial appraisal of shares — Court action.

(1) If a demand for payment under Section 16-10a-1328 remains unresolved, the corporation shall commence a proceeding within 60 days after receiving the payment demand contemplated by Section 16-10a-1328, and petition the court to determine the fair value of the shares and the amount of interest. If the corporation does not commence the proceeding within the 60-day period, it shall pay each dissenter whose demand remains unresolved the amount demanded.

(2) The corporation shall commence the proceeding described in Subsection (1) in the district court of the county in this state where the corporation's principal office, or if it has no principal office in this state, Salt Lake County. If the corporation is a foreign corporation, it shall commence the proceeding in the county in this state where the principal office of the domestic corporation merged with, or whose shares were acquired by, the foreign corporation was located, or, if the domestic corporation did not have its principal office in this state at the time of the transaction, in Salt Lake County.

(3) The corporation shall make all dissenters who have satisfied the requirements of Sections 16-10a-1321, 16-10a-1323, and 16-10a-1328, whether or not they are residents of this state whose demands remain unresolved, parties to the proceeding commenced under Subsection (2) as an action against their shares. All such dissenters who are named as parties shall be served with a copy of the petition. Service on each dissenter may be by registered or certified mail to the address stated in his payment demand made pursuant to Section 16-10a-1328. If no address is stated in the payment demand, service may be made at the address stated in the payment demand given pursuant to Section 16-10a-1323. If no address is stated in the payment demand, service may be made at the address shown on the corporation's current record of shareholders for the record shareholder holding the dissenter's shares. Service may also be made otherwise as provided by law.

(4) The jurisdiction of the court in which the proceeding is commenced under Subsection (2) is plenary and exclusive. The court may appoint one or more persons as appraisers to receive evidence and recommend decision on the question of fair value. The appraisers have the powers described in the order appointing them, or in any amendment to it. The dissenters are entitled to the same discovery rights as parties in other civil proceedings.

(5) Each dissenter made a party to the proceeding commenced under Subsection (2) is entitled to judgment:

(a) for the amount, if any, by which the court finds that the fair value of his shares, plus interest, exceeds the amount paid by the corporation pursuant to Section 16-10a-1325; or

(b) for the fair value, plus interest, of the dissenter's after-acquired shares for which the corporation elected to withhold payment under Section 16-10a-1327.

16-10a-1331. Court costs and counsel fees.

(1) The court in an appraisal proceeding commenced under Section 16-10a-1330 shall determine all costs of the proceeding, including the reasonable compensation and expenses of appraisers appointed by the court. The court shall assess the costs against the corporation, except that the court may assess costs against all or some of the dissenters, in amounts the court finds equitable, to the extent the court finds that the dissenters acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith in demanding payment under Section 16-10a-1328.

(2) The court may also assess the fees and expenses of counsel and experts for the respective parties, in amounts the court finds equitable:

(a) against the corporation and in favor of any or all dissenters if the court finds the corporation did not substantially comply with the requirements of Sections 16-10a-1320 through 16-10a-1328; or

(b) against either the corporation or one or more dissenters, in favor of any other party, if the court finds that the party against whom the fees and expenses are assessed acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith with respect to the rights provided by this part.

(3) If the court finds that the services of counsel for any dissenter were of substantial benefit to other dissenters similarly situated, and that the fees for those services should not be assessed against the corporation, the court may award to those counsel reasonable fees to be paid out of the amounts awarded the dissenters who were benefited.

FNB Bancorp
12 South Main Street
Layton, UT 84041

Ladies and Gentlemen:

FNB Bancorp (“FNB”), The First National Bank of Layton (the “Bank”), Glacier Bancorp, Inc. (“GBCI”) and Glacier Bank (“Glacier Bank”) are proposing to enter into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Agreement”) pursuant to which, on the Effective Date, (1) FNB will merge with and into GBCI, with GBCI as the surviving entity (the “Merger”), and (2) immediately thereafter, the Bank will merge with and into Glacier Bank, with Glacier Bank surviving as a wholly owned subsidiary of GBCI. Pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Agreement, each share of FNB Stock issued and outstanding as of the Effective Time, except for certain shares of FNB Stock as specified in the Agreement, will be converted into and represent the right to receive from GBCI (i) a number of shares of GBCI Common Stock determined by dividing (a) the Total Stock Consideration, by (b) the number of shares of FNB Stock outstanding on the Effective Date, rounded to the nearest thousandth, plus (ii) the additional Per Share Cash Consideration as set forth in the Agreement, if any (together, the “Merger Consideration”). Capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Agreement. The terms and conditions of the Merger are more fully set forth in the Agreement. You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration to the holders of FNB Stock.

Sandler O’Neill & Partners, L.P. (“Sandler O’Neill”, “we” or “our”), as part of its investment banking business, is regularly engaged in the valuation of financial institutions and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions. In connection with this opinion, we have reviewed and considered, among other things: (i) a draft of the Agreement, dated January 14, 2019; (ii) certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of FNB and the Bank that we deemed relevant; (iii) certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of GBCI and Glacier Bank that we deemed relevant; (iv) internal net income projections for FNB for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020 with an annual net income growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by the senior management of FNB, as well as estimated dividends per share for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of FNB; (v) publicly available consensus analyst earnings per share estimates for GBCI for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020, as well as a long-term earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter and dividend payout ratio for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of GBCI; (vi) the pro forma financial impact of the Merger on GBCI based on certain assumptions relating to purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings and transaction expenses, as provided by the senior management of GBCI; (vii) the publicly reported historical price and trading activity for GBCI Common Stock, including a comparison of certain stock market information for GBCI Common Stock and certain stock indices as well as publicly available information for certain other similar companies, the securities of which are publicly traded; (viii) a comparison of certain financial information for FNB and GBCI with similar financial institutions for which information is publicly available; (ix) the financial terms of certain recent business combinations in the banking industry (on a nationwide basis), to the extent publicly available; (x) the current market environment generally and the banking environment in particular; and (xi) such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria as we considered relevant. We also discussed with certain members of the management of FNB and its representatives the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of FNB and held similar discussions with certain members of the management of GBCI and its representatives regarding the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of GBCI.

In performing our review, we have relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was available to and reviewed by us from public sources, that was provided to us by FNB or GBCI or their respective representatives, or that was otherwise reviewed by us, and we have assumed such accuracy and completeness for purposes of rendering this opinion without any independent verification or investigation. We have relied on the assurances of the respective managements of FNB and GBCI that they are not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make any of such information inaccurate or misleading. We have not been asked to and have not undertaken an independent verification of any of such information and we do not assume any responsibility or liability for the accuracy or completeness thereof. We did not make an independent evaluation or perform an appraisal of the specific assets, the collateral securing assets or the liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of FNB or GBCI or any of their respective subsidiaries, nor have we been furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals. We render no opinion or evaluation on the collectability of any assets or the future performance of any loans of FNB or GBCI. We did not make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses of FNB or GBCI, or of the combined entity after the Merger, and we have not reviewed any individual credit files relating to FNB or GBCI. We have assumed, with your consent, that the respective allowances for loan losses for both FNB and GBCI are adequate to cover such losses and will be adequate on a pro forma basis for the combined entity.

In preparing its analyses, Sandler O'Neill used internal net income projections for FNB for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020 with an annual net income growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by the senior management of FNB, as well as estimated dividends per share for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of FNB. In addition, Sandler O'Neill used publicly available consensus analyst earnings per share estimates for GBCI for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020, as well as a long-term earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter and dividend payout ratio for the years ending December 31, 2019 through December 31, 2022, as directed by the senior management of GBCI. Sandler O'Neill also received and used in its pro forma analyses certain assumptions relating to purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings and transaction expenses, as provided by the senior management of GBCI. With respect to the foregoing information, the respective senior managements of FNB and GBCI confirmed to us that such information reflected (or, in the case of the publicly available consensus analyst estimates referred to above, were consistent with) the best currently available projections, estimates and judgments of those respective managements as to the future financial performance of FNB and GBCI, respectively, and the other matters covered thereby, and we assumed that the future financial performance reflected in such information would be achieved. We express no opinion as to such information, or the assumptions on which such information is based. We have also assumed that there has been no material change in the respective assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects of FNB or GBCI since the date of the most recent financial statements made available to us. We have assumed in all respects material to our analysis that FNB and GBCI will remain as going concerns for all periods relevant to our analysis.

We have also assumed, with your consent, that (i) each of the parties to the Agreement will comply in all material respects with all material terms and conditions of the Agreement and all related agreements, that all of the representations and warranties contained in such agreements are true and correct in all material respects, that each of the parties to such agreements will perform in all material respects all of the covenants and other obligations required to be performed by such party under such agreements and that the conditions precedent in such agreements are not and will not be waived, (ii) in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third party approvals, consents and releases with respect to the Merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition will be imposed that would have an adverse effect on FNB, GBCI, the Merger or any related transactions, and (iii) the Merger and any related transactions will be consummated in accordance with the terms of the Agreement without any waiver, modification or amendment of any material term, condition or agreement thereof and in compliance with all applicable laws and other requirements. Finally, with your consent, we have relied upon the advice that FNB has received from its legal, accounting and tax advisors as to all legal, accounting and tax matters relating to the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by the Agreement. We express no opinion as to any such matters.

Our opinion is necessarily based on financial, economic, regulatory, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to us as of, the date hereof. Events occurring after the date hereof could materially affect this opinion. We have not undertaken to update, revise, reaffirm or withdraw this opinion or otherwise comment upon events occurring after the date hereof. We express no opinion as to the trading value of GBCI Common Stock at any time or what the value of GBCI Common Stock will be once it is actually received by the holders of FNB Stock.

We have acted as FNB's financial advisor in connection with the Merger and will receive a fee for our services, which fee is contingent upon closing of the Merger. We will also receive a fee for rendering this opinion, which opinion fee will be credited in full towards the transaction fee which will become payable to Sandler O'Neill on the day of closing of the Merger. FNB has also agreed to indemnify us against certain claims and liabilities arising out of our engagement and to reimburse us for certain of our out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with our engagement. In the two years preceding the date hereof we have not provided any other investment banking services to FNB, nor has Sandler O'Neill provided any investment banking services to GBCI in the two years preceding the date hereof. In the ordinary course of our business as a broker-dealer, we may purchase securities from and sell securities to FNB, GBCI and their respective affiliates. We may also actively trade the equity and debt securities of GBCI and its affiliates for our own account and for the accounts of our customers.

Our opinion is directed to the Board of Directors of FNB in connection with its consideration of the Agreement and the Merger and does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder of FNB as to how any such shareholder should vote at any meeting of shareholders called to consider and vote upon the approval of the Agreement and the Merger. Our opinion is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration to the holders of FNB Stock and does not address the underlying business decision of FNB to engage in the Merger, the form or structure of the Merger or any other transactions contemplated in the Agreement, the relative merits of the Merger as compared to any other alternative transactions or business strategies that might exist for FNB or the effect of any other transaction in which FNB might engage. We also do not express any opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to be received in the Merger by any officer, director or employee of FNB or GBCI, or any class of such persons, if any, relative to the compensation to be received in the Merger by any other shareholder. This opinion has been approved by Sandler O'Neill's fairness opinion committee. This opinion may not be reproduced without Sandler O'Neill's prior written consent; provided, however, Sandler O'Neill will provide its consent for the opinion to be included in regulatory filings to be completed in connection with the Merger.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, it is our opinion that, as of the date hereof, the Merger Consideration is fair to holders of FNB Stock from a financial point of view.

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN PROSPECTUS

Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers

Sections 35-1-451 through 35-1-459 of the Montana Business Corporation Act (“MBCA”) contain specific provisions relating to indemnification of directors and officers of Montana corporations. In general, the statute provides that (i) a corporation must indemnify a director or officer who is wholly successful in his defense of a proceeding to which he is a party because of his status as such, unless limited by the articles of incorporation, and (ii) a corporation may indemnify a director or officer if he is not wholly successful in such defense, if it is determined as provided in the statute that the director meets a certain standard of conduct, provided that when a director is liable to the corporation, the corporation may not indemnify him. The statute also permits a director or officer of a corporation who is a party to a proceeding to apply to the courts for indemnification or advance of expenses, unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, and the court may order indemnification or advancement of expenses under certain circumstances set forth in the statute. The statute further provides that a corporation may in its articles of incorporation or bylaws or by resolution provide indemnification in addition to that provided by statute, subject to certain conditions set forth in the statute.

Glacier’s articles provide, among other things, that the personal liability of the directors and officers of the corporation for monetary damages shall be eliminated to the fullest extent permitted by the MBCA. Glacier’s bylaws provide that the corporation shall indemnify its directors and officers to the fullest extent not prohibited by law, including indemnification for payments in settlement of actions brought against a director or officer in the name of the corporation.

- (b) Financial Statement Schedules. None.

Item 22. Undertakings

- (a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

(1) To file, during any period in which it offers or sells securities, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement to:

- (i) Include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933;
- (ii) Reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of the registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in the registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in the volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of prospectus filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the “Calculation of Registration Fee” table in the effective registration statement; and

(iii) Include any material information with respect to the plan of distribution not previously disclosed in the registration statement or any material change to such information in the registration statement;

(2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of the securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(3) To file a post-effective amendment to remove from registration any of the securities that remain unsold at the end of the offering.

(b) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the registrant's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) that is incorporated by reference in the registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at the time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.

(c) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether or not such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

(d) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to respond to requests for information that is incorporated by reference into the prospectus pursuant to Item 4, 10(b), 11, or 13 of this form, within one business day of receipt of such request, and to send the incorporated documents by first class mail or other equally prompt means. This includes information contained in documents filed subsequent to the effective date of the registration statement through the date of responding to the request.

(e) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to supply by means of a post-effective amendment all information concerning a transaction, and the company being acquired involved therein, that was not the subject of and included in the registration statement when it became effective.
