Disclaimers Regarding Forecasts, Projections and other Prospective Financial Information

Neither PPBI nor Opus, as a matter of course, publicly disclose forecasts or internal projections as to its respective future performance, revenues, earnings, financial condition or other results given, among other reasons, the inherent uncertainty of the underlying assumptions and estimates, other than, from time to time, estimated ranges of certain expected financial results and operational metrics for the current year, interim periods within the current year, and certain future years in their respective regular earnings press releases and other investor materials.

However, in connection with the merger, and as described in the joint proxy statement/prospectus, the publicly-available mean analyst earnings per share estimates for PPBI for the years ending December 31, 2020 and December 31, 2021 (taking into account certain adjustments for CECL accounting standards), as provided by, discussed with, and/or confirmed by PPBI management and relied upon by each of D.A. Davidson and Piper Sandler for purposes of its respective financial analyses. This prospective financial information was approved by PPBI for D.A. Davidson's and Piper Sandler's, as applicable, use and reliance in performing its respective financial analyses in connection with D.A. Davidson's fairness opinion, as described in the section of the joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled "The Merger – Opinion of Pacific Premier's Financial Advisor" and Piper Sandler's fairness opinion, as described in the section of the joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled "The Merger – Opinion of Opus's Financial Advisor".

Moreover, in connection with the merger, and as described in the joint proxy statement/prospectus, the publicly-available mean analyst earnings per share estimates for Opus for the years ending December 31, 2020 and December 31, 2021 (taking into account certain adjustments for CECL accounting standards), as provided by Opus management and relied upon by Piper Sandler, were $1.65 and $1.82, respectively. We refer to the information described in the immediately preceding two paragraphs collectively as "prospective financial information." A summary of certain significant elements of this prospective financial information is included to supplement the joint proxy statement/prospectus solely for the purpose of providing PPBI and Opus shareholders access to certain publicly-available and nonpublic information made available to D.A. Davidson and Piper Sandler.

Neither PPBI nor Opus endorse the prospective financial information as necessarily predictive of actual future results. Furthermore, although presented with numerical specificity, the prospective financial information reflects numerous estimates and assumptions made by PPBI and Opus senior management at the time such prospective financial information was prepared, discussed or approved for use by D. A. Davidson and Piper Sandler. The prospective financial information represents PPBI senior management's evaluation of PPBI's and Opus's expected future performance and Opus senior management's evaluation of Opus's expected future financial performance, in each case, on a stand-alone basis, without reference to the merger. In addition, since the prospective financial information covers multiple years, such information by its nature becomes subject to greater uncertainty with each successive year. These and the other estimates and assumptions underlying the prospective financial information involve judgments with respect to, among other things, economic, competitive, regulatory and financial market conditions and future business decisions that may not be realized and that are inherently subject to significant business, economic, competitive and regulatory uncertainties and contingencies, including, among other things, the inherent uncertainty of the business and economic conditions affecting the industries in which PPBI and Opus operate and the risks and uncertainties described in the sections of the joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled "Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Statement Concerning Forward-Looking Statements" and in the reports that PPBI files with the SEC and Opus files with the FDIC from time to time, all of which are difficult to predict and many of which are outside the control of PPBI and Opus and will be beyond the control of the combined company. There can be no assurance that the underlying assumptions or projected results will be realized, and actual results could differ materially from those reflected in the prospective financial information, whether or not the merger is completed. Further, these assumptions do not include all potential actions that the senior management of PPBI and Opus could or might have taken during these time periods. Supplementing the joint proxy statement/prospectus with the unaudited prospective financial information included herein should not be regarded as an indication that PPBI and Opus or their respective boards of directors or advisors considered, or now consider, this prospective financial information to be material information to any PPBI or Opus shareholders, as the case may be, particularly in light of the inherent risks and uncertainties associated with such prospective financial information, or that it should be construed as financial guidance, and it should not be relied on as such. This information was prepared solely for internal use and is subjective in many respects and thus is susceptible to multiple interpretations and periodic revisions based on actual experience and business developments. The prospective financial information is not fact and should not be relied upon as necessarily indicative of actual future results. The prospective financial information also reflects numerous variables, expectations and assumptions available at the time it was prepared as to certain business decisions that are subject to change and does not take into account any circumstances or events occurring after the date they were prepared, including the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement or the possible financial and other effects on PPBI or Opus of the merger, and does not attempt to predict or suggest actual future results of the combined company or give effect to the merger, including the effect of negotiating or executing the merger agreement, the costs that may be incurred in connection with consummating the merger, the potential synergies that may be achieved by the combined company as a result of the merger, the effect on PPBI or Opus of any business or strategic decision or action that has been or will be taken as a result of the merger agreement having been executed, or the effect of any business or strategic decisions or actions which would likely have been taken if the merger agreement had not been executed, but which were instead altered, accelerated, postponed or not taken in anticipation of the merger. Further, the prospective financial information does not take into account the effect of any possible failure of the merger to occur. No assurances can be given that if the prospective financial information and the underlying assumptions had been prepared as of the date of the joint proxy statement/prospectus, similar assumptions would be used. In addition, the prospective financial information may not reflect the manner in which the combined company would operate after the merger.

The prospective financial information was not prepared for the purpose of, or with a view toward, public disclosure or complying with the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of prospective financial information, published guidelines of the SEC or FDIC regarding forward-looking statements or generally accepted accounting principles. Neither Crowe LLP (PPBI's independent registered public accounting firm), RSM US LLP (Opus's independent registered public accounting firm) nor any other independent registered public accounting firm, has audited, reviewed, examined, compiled nor applied any procedures with respect to the prospective financial information and, accordingly, neither Crowe LLP nor RSM US LLP has expressed any opinion or given any other form of assurance with respect thereto or its achievability and Crowe LLP and RSM US LLP assume no responsibility for the prospective financial information and disclaims any association with the prospective financial information.

Supplemental Information Regarding the D.A. Davidson Fairness Opinion

As described in the joint proxy statement/prospectus, in connection with the execution of the Agreement, D.A. Davidson provided PPBI's Board of Directors with an opinion as to the fairness, as of January 31, 2020, and based upon and subject to assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken, the merger consideration to be paid to the Opus shareholders was fair, from a financial point of view, to Pacific Premier in the proposed merger. In rendering its opinion, D.A. Davidson, in relevant part, conducted a net present value analysis of PPBI and Opus, analyzed companies comparable to PPBI and analyzed precedent transactions. Pro Forma Transaction Analysis. As described in the joint proxy statement/prospectus, Piper Sandler analyzed certain potential pro forma effects of the merger on Pacific Premier utilizing certain assumptions, as provided by the senior management of Pacific Premier. For more information about certain of the assumptions provided by Pacific Premier for use in Piper Sandler’s pro forma analysis, see the Investor Presentation filed by Pacific Premier as an exhibit to its Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on February 3, 2020, which is incorporated by reference in the joint proxy statement/prospectus. Piper Sandler’s analysis indicated that the merger could be accretive to Pacific Premier’s estimated earnings per share (excluding one-time transaction costs and expenses) in the years ending 2020 through 2023 by 5.1%, 14.3%, 10.2% and 7.3% respectively, and dilutive to Pacific Premier’s estimated tangible book value per share at close and December 31, 2020, and December 31, 2021 by 2.7%, 2.0% and 0.2%, respectively.

Supplemental Information Regarding the Interests of Certain Opus Officers and Directors in the Merger

The joint proxy statement/prospectus disclosed under the section entitled “The Merger—Interests of Certain Opus Officers and Directors in the Merger—Golden Parachute Compensation” estimated payments in respect of equity awards for Opus named executive officers assuming performance-based restricted stock units would be deemed at the maximum level (i.e., 175% of target performance level). Although ultimate determination of performance will be made shortly before the consummation of the merger, Opus currently expects that performance-based restricted stock units will be earned at approximately the target level under the terms of the applicable equity plans and award agreements. The estimated value of the equity awards held by Opus’s named executive officers at the target level is disclosed under note 3 to the Golden Parachute Compensation table in the joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Litigation

Anschutz Litigation

On April 2, 2020, PPBI and its directors were named as defendants in a lawsuit brought in U.S. District Court for the Central District of California captioned Anschutz v. Pacific Premier Bancorp, Inc., et al. (Case No. 8:20-cv-00650). This lawsuit was brought by Bennett Anschutz, a PPBI shareholder. Mr. Anschutz alleges that PPBI omitted material facts necessary to make certain statements in the joint proxy statement/prospectus contained in PPBI’s Registration Statement, which was declared effective by the SEC on April 7, 2020, not false or misleading. The defendants intend to file a motion to dismiss the litigation. The complaint does not specify any damages, but seeks the right to enjoin PPBI’s acquisition of Opus until further disclosures are made, or in the alternative, recover unspecified damages related to the alleged omissions, as well as interest, attorney’s fees and litigation costs.

Opus Shareholder Litigation

On April 21, 2020, the first of two lawsuits was filed against Opus and its directors by alleged Opus shareholders in United States federal district courts, captioned Parshall v. Opus Bank et al. (Case No. 1:20-cv-536, D. Del.); on April 24, 2020, the second lawsuit was filed, captioned Klein v. Opus Bank et al. (Case No. 1:20-cv-536, C.D. Cal.). Both lawsuits allege substantially similar claims contending that the joint proxy statement/prospectus omits or misstates certain allegedly material information in violation of Sections 14 and 20 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The Parshall complaint purports to bring that action on behalf of a class of similarly-situated Opus shareholders, and it also alleges a claim against PPBI and Pacific Premier Bank, contending that those entities are liable for the challenged disclosures as “control persons” of Opus. Both complaints purport to seek, among other things, an order enjoining the consummation of the Proposed Merger and requiring the disclosure of additional or corrected information, or unspecified money damages or other monetary relief.

The defendants in each of the cases described above believe that that the lawsuits are without merit. Nothing in this Form 8-K shall be deemed to be an admission of the merits of any claims asserted in the actions or of legal necessity or materiality under applicable laws of any of the disclosures set forth herein, all of which is denied expressly by PPBI and Opus.

Forward-Looking Comments

This Form 8-K, the joint proxy statement/prospectus and the documents that we incorporate by reference therein contain “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 regarding the financial condition, results of operations, business plans and the future performance of Pacific Premier and Opus. Words such as “anticipates,” “believes,” “estimates,” “expects,” “forecasts,” “intends,” “plans,” “projects,” “could,” “may,” “should,” “will” or other similar words and expressions are intended to identify these forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on Pacific Premier’s and Opus’s current expectations and assumptions regarding Pacific Premier’s and Opus’s businesses, the economy, and other future conditions. Because forward-looking statements relate to future results and occurrences, they are subject to inherent uncertainties, risks, and changes in circumstances that are difficult to predict. Many possible events or factors could affect Pacific Premier’s or Opus’s future financial results and performance and could cause actual results or performance to differ materially from anticipated results or performance. Such risks and uncertainties include, among others: the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the right of one or both of the parties to terminate the definitive agreement and plan of reorganization between Pacific Premier and Opus, the outcome of any legal proceedings that may be instituted against Pacific Premier or Opus, delays in completing the transaction, the failure to obtain necessary regulatory approvals (and the risk that such approvals may result in the imposition of conditions that could adversely affect the combined company or the expected benefits of the transaction) and shareholder approvals or to satisfy any of the other conditions to the transaction on a timely basis or at all, the possibility that the anticipated benefits of the transaction are not realized when expected or at all, including as a result of the impact of, or problems arising from, the integration of the two companies or as a result of the strength of the economy and competitive factors in the areas where Pacific Premier and Opus do business, the possibility that the transaction may be more expensive to complete than anticipated, including as a result of unexpected factors or events, diversion of management’s attention from ongoing business operations and opportunities, potential adverse reactions or changes to business or employee relationships, including those resulting from the announcement or completion of the transaction, the ability to complete the transaction and integration of Pacific Premier and Opus successfully, the dilution caused by Pacific Premier’s issuance of additional shares of its capital stock in connection with the transaction, and the outbreak of COVID-19 and its effects on the economic and business environments in which Pacific Premier and Opus operate, which may adversely affect the businesses in which Pacific Premier and Opus are engaged. Except to the extent required by applicable law or regulation, each of Pacific Premier and Opus disclaims any obligation to update such factors or to publicly announce the results of any revisions to any of the forward-looking statements included herein to reflect future events or developments. Further information regarding Pacific Premier, Opus and factors which could affect the forward-looking statements contained herein can be found in Pacific Premier’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019 and its other filings with the SEC, and in Opus’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2019 and its other filings with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”).

Pacific Premier and Opus specifically disclaim any obligation to update any factors or to publicly announce the result of revisions to any of the forward-looking statements included herein to reflect future events or developments.
