JEFFERIES OPENS INVESTMENT BANKING BUSINESS IN AMSTERDAM, EXPANDING ITS REACH IN EMEA

NEW YORK, LONDON and AMSTERDAM, September 14, 2017 - Jefferies today announced that it has opened an investment banking office in Amsterdam, the Netherlands. Located in the Amsterdam World Trade Centre, the new office will serve clients across the Benelux region.

Kasper van Griensven, Jefferies Head of Benelux Investment Banking, will lead a team of seven professionals based in Amsterdam. Kasper has over 20 years of investment banking experience and joins from Deutsche Bank where he was Head of Benelux Investment Banking. Under Kasper, his team maintained a top five position in M&A, ECM and DCM in Benelux.

Serge Fielmich, Jefferies Head of Benelux M&A, also joins from Deutsche Bank, where he most recently held the role of Head of Benelux M&A and has over 16 years of investment banking experience.

Commenting on the opening, Dominic Lester, European Head of Investment Banking, said, "Jefferies' expansion into the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg, continues the growth of our European investment banking footprint. In recent years, we have seen increasing activity from clients in the Benelux region and our Amsterdam office strongly positions us to serve those clients' investment banking needs."

Jefferies has significant expertise in core industries in the Benelux region, including TMT, Industrials, Consumer, Financial Institutions, Healthcare, Real Estate, and Power & Infrastructure.

The Amsterdam office is the eighth Jefferies investment banking office in EMEA, the others being London, Frankfurt, Paris, Milan, Stockholm, Zurich and Dubai. In addition, Jefferies has a joint venture in Spain with Arcano, one of the leading financial advisory firms in Spain.
